Six Italian Divisions Are "Left In The Lurch" By Once-Proud Rommel Army

THREE CLASSES IN FIRST AID TO OPEN HERE

Organization meetings for the first three first-aid training classes for members of the civilian defense corps in Gettysburg were set at a meeting of the CD organization Friday evening in the Legion home following the monthly session of the borough council of defense.

Classes of from 30 to 35 each will be organized next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings with Red Cross trained instructors in charge. Plans for the classes were worked out with the assistance of Robert D. Fidler, Gettysburg high school teacher and assistant first aid chairman for the county chapter of the Red Cross.

Wardens in the west end of town will meet at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Meade school building with Arthur Buehler as instructor, while wardens from the eastern and northern parts of town will meet at the same hour in the Lincoln school building with Fred P. Haehnel as teacher. On Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock wardens in the central area of the borough will meet at the engine house where Arthur E. Hutchison will organize a class. Tentative plans were considered for a fourth class to be held at the high school building.

10-Hour Training
The federal government and the Army require civilian defense corps members to "be exposed" to at least 10 hours of first aid training. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, borough defense chairman, told the wardens Friday evening. No test will be given the wardens although those who wish may take the full 20-hour course that will be offered by the Red Cross in the classes opening next week.

Completion of 10 hours of training entitles pupils to the official CD armband. Twenty hours of training qualifies a student for Red Cross certification. For the purposes of the CD requirements first aid training taken in the past will qualify a warden while those who are unable to take the training immediately may be carried in the CD corps as "trainees."

Report All Tests
In his talk to the wardens and auxiliary police Friday evening, Chairman Winebrenner stressed the importance of complete reports from every post in the borough after a test or an alarm—whether or not an incident occurred on the post.

Post wardens were directed to report personally—not by telephone—to their communications men. The 19 communications men in the borough will then use the telephone to forward their reports to the borough control center at the engine house. All of the reports should be completed within a half hour after the raid or test.

There are now approved blackout devices for official automobiles, Mr. Winebrenner said, and should be used by all cars authorized to operate during a raid or test.

School for Women
At the defense council meeting plans were made for a school to instruct women in general civilian defense procedure so that those women may help staff local posts when the men are absent. Mr. Winebrenner urged each post to make sure that it is properly staffed at all times either by men or women. He also asked for active development of post headquarters.

Lawrence M. Sheads, county chief of the aircraft warning service and a member of the county defense council staff, hinted in a brief talk that the county council will make check ups on borough defense organizations in the future during tests or raids.

Musical Sunday At SCA Building

Dr. Francis C. Mason will be the reader at the weekly musical which will be held Sunday evening at 8:45 o'clock in the SCA building at Gettysburg college.

Among those who will participate on the program are Bernard Levin, violinist; Miss Laura Byers and Prof. Fred Shaffer, pianists.

The public is invited to attend.

Thomas S. Newman Rites Held Friday

Funeral services for Thomas S. Newman, 87, Lincolnway west, who died Wednesday morning from infirmities of age, were held from the late home Friday afternoon conducted by the Rev. A. R. Longenecker. Interment in Grace Lutheran church cemetery, Two Taverns.

The pallbearers were John Newman, Thomas Newman, Robert Newman, George Gengell, Kermit Horster and Ray Baldwin.

USO DRIVE IN COUNTY NEARS $2,500 TOTAL

Gettysburg has forged into the lead in the current USO campaign for $5,000 from Adams county with the announcement today of donations of $200 by the local Furniture companies; $100 by the Gettysburg and Harrisburg Transportation company; $25 from the Stouck Reaser company; $10 from the Wednesday bridge club and scores of gifts from individuals that range from $50 to 10 cents.

Gettysburg now has given $677.30 in the county's total of $2,346.84 covered by today's list of donors. These amounts have been given to date by the various county communities: Littlestown, $36.26; McSherrystown, $57.46; Wrentham, $23.65; East Berlin, $23.15; Bonneauville, $63.40; New Chester, $11.22; Huntersburg, $31.50; Arendtsville, $20; Heidlersburg, $13; New Oxford, $56.43; Table Rock, $28; McKnightstown, $15.75, and $58.20 from Bendersville.

Gettysburg Fund
Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler, treasurer of the county USO committee, announced today the current totals for the various canvass areas in Gettysburg that have been reported to date: York street, $24.90; Chambersburg and North Washington, $185.30; Springs avenue, $89.50; West Middle street, $49.35; East and West Broadway, $35.50; upper East Middle, South Stratton and East High streets, $18.50; and lower East Middle and Liberty streets, $14.25.

Gettysburg's colored community has contributed $15.20, Mrs. Buehler reported today.

DAR MEETING REPORT GIVEN

The November meeting of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer, West Broadway. In the absence of the regent Mrs. R. S. Eaby, the recording secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Woods, presided.

Reports on the recent state DAR conference at York were presented by Mrs. Victor Dutera, Mrs. Anna Plank, Mrs. H. D. Sheppard, Mrs. Bilheimer and Mrs. C. H. Hett. The conference report from the regent, Mrs. Saby, was read by Miss Woods. The president of the local chapter of the Children of the American Revolution, Mrs. W. E. Sheely reported her group held a benefit party recently and sent the profits of $26 to the U. S. ambulance fund.

During the social hour that followed the business session, tea was served from a colonial Thanksgiving table set with antique silver and china. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. G. W. Lefever and Mrs. Anna Plank.

Tropical Storm Strikes In Cuba

Miami, Fla., Nov. 7 (AP)—A tropical storm that for a time threatened the populous Florida east coast with hurricane winds swirled over Cuba's mountains toward the Caribbean last night.

Storm warnings were lowered between Melbourne and Miami, but continued to fly from Miami through the Florida Keys to Key West.

Escaped Prisoners Caught In Kentucky

Three Germans who escaped from Army guards aboard a train nearing Camp Forrest, Tenn., were captured in a barn near Bowling Green, Ky. They are (left to right) Karl Luft and Hans Jonat, former members of the German merchant marine, and Paul Theodore Hitzegrad, under interment as an enemy alien.

CLUBS TO HEAR RELIEF LEADER

Dr. M. C. Lehman, who has been in England, France, Spain, Germany and Poland since the outbreak of World War II representing the co-operative relief organization sponsored by the Friends, Monnomite and Brethren churches, will be the speaker at a joint ladies' night meeting of the Gettysburg Lions and Rotary clubs to be held Monday evening at 6:15 o'clock at the Battlefield hotel.

Doctor Lehman, who has spoken before the local Rotarians previously, spent a number of years in India as a missionary of the Monnomite church and later became active in educational work. At the outbreak of this war he went to Europe in connection with the relief work and for a time had supervision of all American relief reaching Poland. He also served as contact man in reaching many Allied prisoners of war.

TO EDIT G-BOOK

Robert B. Fortenbaugh, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, Broadway, has been named editor-in-chief of the 1943 "G-Book," handbook for freshmen at Gettysburg college. He was selected on the merit basis by the last year's executive board of the book.

Turkeys May Be 60c Per Pound

The prospect of Thanksgiving turkeys at 40 cents a pound liveweight or 60 cents a pound dressed appeared at the Farmers' market today. These prices were quoted today with the qualification that the figure may go up by Thanksgiving Day.

Young ducks were on sale at 35 and 40 cents a pound dressed weight this morning while dressed chickens continued at 40 and 45 cents a pound. Pork prices showed no change today.

Large and small chrysanthemums banked many stands at the market house this morning. The small "mums" brought 15, 50, 75 cents and $1 a bunch while the large blooms sold at from 75 cents to $2 a dozen.

Eggs continued to sell for 50 cents a dozen with pullet eggs marked 40 cents. Two dollars remained the top price for apples while both potatoes and sweet potatoes were sold at $2 a bushel.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Barbara Ann Mackley, Taneytown, has been admitted as a patient to the Warner hospital. Mrs. Robert Stabbaugh and infant daughter, Janet Louise, Middletown, have been discharged.

312 Cows In 14 Herds Are Tested In October

The Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement association, under the supervision of Miss Teresa A. Murren, tester, completed its October work with 14 herds, totaling 312 cows being tested. Six of the cows belonging to association members produced over 50 pounds of fat and 21 produced over 40 pounds. Twelve cows produced over 1200 pounds of milk for the month. All of these records were on the basis of two milkings a day.

The ten highest producing cows in butterfat for the month are as follows:

Owner	Breed	Lbs. Milk	Lbs. Butterfat
Joseph A. Stoner, Guernsey		1246	59.8
Edgar A. Weaver, registered Holstein		1553	57.5
Charles B. Spicer, registered Ayrshire		1305	57.2
W. Clayton Jester, grade Guernsey		1380	56.6
Norman J. King, grade Guernsey		1184	56.7
P. M. Cater, registered Holstein		1233	55.1
F. M. Anderson registered Holstein		1376	48.2
H. M. Cater, purchased Jersey		871	47.9
Charles B. Spicer, registered Ayrshire		1367	47.3
H. M. Cater, registered Holstein		1393	47.6

The seven highest herd averages compiled for the month were as follows:

Owner	Lbs. Milk	Lbs. Fat	No. Cows
Joseph A. Stoner, East Berlin R. 2	816	33.5	17
H. M. Cater, Gettysburg R. 2	736	26.7	26
W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville	567	25.5	20
B. J. Gruffe, York Springs R. 1	558	25.3	10
Edgar W. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4	661	21.5	53
A. Irvin Hostetter, Littlestown	571	21.3	33
Norman J. King, York Springs	491	24.3	32

Other herds in which there were cows producing 40 pounds or more of butterfat were those of Edgar H. Leer, York Springs R. 1, and A. Irvin Hostetter, Littlestown R. 2.

During the month Miss Murren, in addition to regular association work, attended a two-day conference for southeastern Pennsylvania cow testers at New Bloomfield. These conferences are semi-annual affairs held by the testers in cooperation with the dairy extension department of the Pennsylvania State college for the purpose of enabling the testers to keep up to all that is new in dairy feeding and management information.

Ex-Judge Miller Marks Birthday

E. P. Miller, former associate judge of Adams county, is receiving congratulations today upon the occasion of his eighty-first birthday anniversary. Here to help celebrate the occasion at a family gathering are his son, Dr. G. E. Miller, Baltimore, and daughter, Mrs. W. R. Sammel, of York. The Rev. W. R. Sammel and their children, Edward and Margaret, York, and Dr. William Taylor, of Baltimore, also are here.

Mrs. J. A. Stallsmith is celebrating her ninetieth birthday anniversary today at her home in the Stallsmith building, center square.

SOLDIER VOTES BOOST GROSS' COUNTY MARGIN

Military ballots already received and counted up to noon today in Adams county added 25 votes to the margin held by Chester H. Gross over Congressman Harry L. Haines in the race for the office of congressman for the twenty-second district. It was disclosed at the county commissioners' office today.

The election night figures of 4,351 for Haines and 5,985 for Gross in this county were confirmed by the official tabulation which cannot be completed and certified until November 13 because the state election laws allow a 10-day period after the election for the receipt of military ballots.

Ballots In Ink
A problem encountered by those making the official count here—and also at Chambersburg and York, according to reports—was the fact that more than 39 of the 81 ballots received from Adams county soldiers were marked in ink. Instructions printed on the ballot specify that only pencil or indelible pencil may be used.

The office of the state bureau of elections was contacted by telephone and while no official opinion would be expressed there it was pointed out that the instructions printed on the ballot are a re-print of the state election laws. As it stands now the ink-marked ballots are uncounted and will remain so unless other instructions are received.

Gain for Gross
The properly marked military ballots added from eight to 14 votes to the previous totals of all of the Democratic candidates and from 35 to 43 to the total for each Republican candidate. Haines has received 14 military votes and Gross 39 so far.

The votes for all of the candidates will not be officially totaled and certified until next Friday.

The official count is being made by the county commissioners, their regular clerks and C. C. Bream and Theodore Lowe, special clerks.

Bombers Blast Italian Genoa

London, Nov. 7 (AP)—Britain's big, home-based bombers raided Italy last night for the fifth time since late October, showing Genoa with fire and explosives which, by the Italians' own word, inflicted "notable damage" on Italy's most important supply port for the Axis armies in North Africa.

The Air Ministry called the attack "concentrated and effective" and the Italian communiqué itself said that "particular damage" was reported in the center of the town, and in the eastern part notable damage was caused.

The long haul over continental Europe and twice across the Alps was made in bad weather, the British communiqué said, but the night skies opened over Genoa and the British bombers were able to unload on clear targets.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hamilton have returned to their home on Lincoln West Broadway, spent Friday in Baltimore, where they attended the presentation of "Lady in the Dark," starring Gertrude Lawrence.

Mussolini Men Meekly Await British Capture

By The Associated Press

Cairo, Nov. 7—With 100,000 of Rommel's total of some 140,000 desert troops captured or trapped and his tank strength grievously crippled, the British chase of the broken and tattered Axis forces swept on today past Matruh, Egyptian port almost halfway to the Libyan border from the starting point of the Allied drive.

The headlong flight of the once-proud Axis Africa corps continued at a rapid clip, the British reported in a communique which listed 20,000 Germans and Italians already captured along with 350 tanks seized in addition to hundreds of others knocked out, and 400 guns and uncounted thousands of vehicles in the hands of the army of the Nile.

Italians Abandoned

Far behind and mostly inland from the coastal road were six Italian divisions left in the lurch when Rommel pulled stakes on the El Alamein front. Mussolini's abandoned men, in a bad way without food and water, were reported waiting meekly to be picked up when the British could get around to them.

Today's British war bulletin said the Axis remnants attempted a stand at Fuka, about 50 miles east of Matruh, but were crushed and from there the main body of Rommel's forces was pushed on beyond Matruh.

The figures given officially on Axis losses in manpower were considered here to be extremely conservative and estimates on how much manpower Rommel had left were lacking, but in the words of one military commentator "he has very little."

Are Beyond Matruh

Earlier front dispatches that the Eighth Army already was fighting in the Matruh region were supported by the communique, which disclosed that low-flying Allied aircraft were pounding the enemy at a "point west of Matruh." It was not considered likely that the Allied air forces would waste ammunition on anything but the main body of Rommel's dwindling forces.

Matruh is 104 miles west of El Alamein, where the great push started.

The 20,000 prisoners already accounted for represent at least one-seventh of Rommel's total manpower of perhaps 140,000 in the desert, it was believed. There was no mention of dead, wounded and uncounted prisoners.

The capture of 350 tanks and "many thousands of vehicles" was a crippling blow to the Axis army. Many of the Italian troops were reported stranded simply for the lack of transportation as Rommel apparently piled his German troops into available trucks and headed for Libya.

It was these riding troops who were being blasted off the roads of Egypt and scattered, dead and wounded, along the bordering desert sands.

At the highest estimate of Rommel's armored force, the 350 captured tanks represented a loss of one-third of his striking force. Some estimates of his original force placed his tank strength as low as 500 vehicles.

While the pursuit continued, heavy bombers carried out attacks on Bengasi and Tobruk, ports of supply for the tattered Axis army. At Bengasi hits were made on a tanker and at Tobruk a merchant ship was hit, the communique said.

Department Store Closed By Strike

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—Despite intervention by the War Labor board, a strike at three downtown department stores—one of which was forced to close yesterday—will continue, Charles Levey, international representative of the AFL Building Service Employees union announced early today.

Levey said more than 400 members of his union struck Wednesday after a collapse in contract negotiations. He declared the union wishes a 20 per cent wage increase, a 40-hour week, a checkoff system of dues collection and union recognition.

The department stores said they had offered a wage increase based upon living costs but that the union refused this proposal.

Women's Club Will Observe Fellowship

World Fellowship will be emphasized by Business and Professional Women's clubs of the Y. W. C. A. throughout the world next Thursday. This is an annual observance. The local club will observe the event with a dinner at the Y. W. C. A. at 6:30.

Guests of the club will be Colonel and Mrs. E. J. Oliver who will show films and speak of their life in various countries in which they have been stationed. Dr. Frederick Tubberg will be the vocal soloist and Clarence Nuss will play several violin selections.

Members may bring husbands or men friends as guests. The deadline for reservations will be Tuesday evening and members are asked to sign at the "Y." The dinner will be served by the Ways and Means committee, Mrs. Ray J. Kitzmiller, chairman. The program is in charge of the Public Affairs committee, Mrs. Guyton E. Buehler, chairman.

Six Italian Divisions Are "Left In The Lurch" By Once-Proud Rommel Army

THREE CLASSES IN FIRST AID TO OPEN HERE

Organization meetings for the first three first-aid training classes for members of the civilian defense corps in Gettysburg were set at a meeting of the CD organization Friday evening in the Legion home following the monthly session of the borough council of defense.

Classes of from 30 to 35 each will be organized next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings with Red Cross trained instructors in charge. Plans for the classes were worked out with the assistance of Robert D. Fidler, Gettysburg high school teacher and assistant first aid chairman for the county chapter of the Red Cross.

Wardens in the west end of town will meet at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Meade school building with Arthur Buehler as instructor, while wardens from the eastern and northern parts of town will meet at the same hour in the Lincoln school building with Fred P. Haehnle as teacher. On Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock wardens in the central area of the borough will meet at the engine house where Arthur E. Hutchison will organize a class. Tentative plans were considered for a fourth class to be held at the high school building.

10-Hour Training

The federal government and the Army require civilian defense corps members to "be exposed" to at least 10 hours of first aid training. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, borough defense chairman, told the wardens Friday evening. No test will be given the wardens although those who wish may take the full 20-hour course that will be offered by the Red Cross in the classes opening next week.

Completion of 10 hours of training entitles pupils to the official CD armband. Twenty hours of training qualifies a student for Red Cross certification. For the purposes of the CD requirements first aid training taken in the past will qualify a warden while those who are unable to take the training immediately may be carried in the CD corps as "trainees."

Report All Tests

In his talk to the wardens and auxiliary police Friday evening, Chairman Winebrenner stressed the importance of complete reports from every post in the borough after a test or an alarm—whether or not an incident occurred on the post.

Post wardens were directed to report personally—not by telephone—to their communications men. The 19 communications men in the borough will then use the telephone to forward their reports to the borough control center at the engine house. All of the reports should be completed within a half hour after the raid or test.

There are now approved blackout devices for official automobiles, Mr. Winebrenner said, and should be used by all cars authorized to operate during a raid or test.

School For Women

At the defense council meeting plans were made for a school to instruct women in general civilian defense procedure so that those women may help staff local posts when the men are absent. Mr. Winebrenner urged each post to make sure that it is properly staffed at all times either by men or women. He also asked for active development of post headquarters.

Lawrence M. Sheads, county chief of the aircraft warning service and a member of the county defense council staff, hinted in a brief talk that the county council will make check ups on borough defense organizations in the future during tests or raids.

Musical Sunday At SCA Building

Dr. Francis C. Mason will be the reader at the weekly musical which will be held Sunday evening at 8:45 o'clock in the SCA building at Gettysburg college.

Among those who will participate on the program are Bernard Levin, violinist; Miss Laura Byers and Prof. Fred Shaffer, pianists.

The public is invited to attend.

Thomas S. Newman Rites Held Friday

Funeral services for Thomas S. Newman, 87, Lincolnway west, who died Wednesday morning from infirmities of age, were held from the late home Friday afternoon conducted by the Rev. A. R. Longenecker. Interment in Grace Lutheran church cemetery, Two Taverns.

The pallbearers were John Newman, Thomas Newman, Robert Newman, George Gingell, Kermit Herter and Ray Baldwin.

USO DRIVE IN COUNTY NEARS $2,500 TOTAL

Gettysburg has forged into the lead in the current USO campaign for $5,000 from Adams county with the announcement today of donations of $200 by the local Furniture companies; $100 by the Gettysburg and Harrisburg Transportation company; $25 from the Stouck Reaser company; $10 from the Wednesday bridge club and scores of gifts from individuals that range from $50 to 10 cents.

Gettysburg now has given $677.30 in the county's total of $2,346.84 covered by today's list of donors.

These amounts have been given to date by the various county communities: Littlestown, $36.26; McSherrystown, $577.46; Wrensville, $23.05; East Berlin, $25.15; Bonneauville, $63.40; New Chester, $11.22; Hunterstown, $31.50; Arendsville, $20; Heidlersburg, $13; New Oxford, $56.45; Table Rock, $28; McKnightstown, $15.75; and $58.30 from Bendersville.

Gettysburg Fund

Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler, treasurer of the county USO committee, announced today the current totals for the various canvass areas in Gettysburg that have been reported to date: York street, $284.90; Chambersburg and North Washington, $185.30; Springs avenue, $89.50; West Middle street, $49.35; East and West Broadway, $35.50; upper East Middle, South Stratton and East High streets, $18.50; and lower East Middle and Liberty streets, $14.25.

Gettysburg's colored community has contributed $15.20, Mrs. Buehler reported today.

DAR MEETING REPORT GIVEN

The November meeting of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer, West Broadway. In the absence of the regent, Mrs. R. S. Saby, the recording secretary, Miss Elizabeth Woods, presided.

Reports on the recent state DAR conference at York were presented by Mrs. Victor Dutera, Mrs. Anna Plank, Mrs. H. D. Sheppard, Mrs. Bilheimer and Mrs. C. H. Hett. The conference report from the regent, Mrs. Saby, was read by Miss Woods.

The president of the local chapter of the Children of the American Revolution, Mrs. W. E. Sheely reported her group held a benefit party recently and sent the profits of $26 to the U. S. ambulance fund.

During the social hour that followed the business session, tea was served from a colonial Thanksgiving table set with antique silver and china. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. G. W. Lefever and Mrs. Anna Plank.

Doctor Lehman, who has spoken before the local Rotarians previously, spent a number of years in India as a missionary of the Mennonite church and later became active in educational work. At the outbreak of this war he went to Europe in connection with the relief work and for a time had supervision of all American relief reaching Poland. He also served as contact man in reaching many Allied prisoners of war.

TO EDIT G-BOOK

Robert B. Fortenbaugh, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, Broadway, has been named editor-in-chief of the 1943 "G-Book," handbook for freshmen at Gettysburg college. He was selected on the merit basis by the last year's executive board of the book.

Turkeys May Be 60c Per Pound

The prospect of Thanksgiving turkeys at 40 cents a pound liveweight or 60 cents a pound dressed appeared at the Farmers' market today. Those prices were quoted today with the qualification that the figure may go up by Thanksgiving Day.

Young ducks were on sale at 35 and 40 cents a pound dressed weight this morning while dressed chickens continued at 40 and 45 cents a pound. Pork prices showed no change today.

Large and small chrysanthemums banked many stands at the market house this morning. The small "mums" brought 15, 50, 75 cents and $1 a bunch while the large blooms sold at from 75 cents to $2 a dozen.

Eggs continued to sell for 50 cents a dozen with pullet eggs marked 40 cents. Two dollars remained the top price for apples while both potatoes and sweet potatoes were sold at $2 a bushel.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Barbara Ann Mackley, Taneytown, has been admitted as a patient to the Warner hospital. Mrs. Robert Slaybaugh and infant daughter, Janet Louise, Middletown, have been discharged.

312 Cows In 14 Herds Are Tested In October

The Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement association, under the supervision of Miss Teresa A. Murren, tester, completed its October work with 14 herds, totaling 312 cows being tested. Six of the cows belonging to association members produced over 50 pounds of fat and 21 produced over 40 pounds. Twelve cows produced over 1200 pounds of milk for the month. All of these records were on the basis of two milkings a day.

The ten highest producing cows in butterfat for the month are as follows:

Owner	Breed	Lbs. Milk	Lbs. Butterfat
Joseph A. Stoner, Guernsey		1246	59.8
Edgar A. Weaver, registered Holstein		1553	57.5
Charles B. Spicer, registered Yorkshire		1395	57.2
W. Clayton Jester, grade Guernsey		1389	56.6
Norman J. King, grade Guernsey		1184	55.7
H. M. Cater, registered Holstein		1283	55.1
F. M. Anderson, registered Holstein		1376	48.2
H. M. Cater, purebred Jersey		871	47.9
Charles B. Spicer, registered Yorkshire		1367	47.3
H. M. Cater, registered Holstein		1398	47.6

The seven highest herd averages compiled for the month were as follows:

Owner	Lbs. Milk	Lbs. Fat	No. Cows
Joseph A. Stoner, East Berlin R. 2	816	33.5	17
H. M. Cater, Gettysburg R. 2	736	26.7	26
W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville	567	25.5	20
B. J. Griffe, York Springs R. 1	658	25.3	10
Edgar W. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4	684	24.5	33
A. Irvin Hostetter, Littlestown	571	24.3	33
Norman J. King, York Springs	491	24.3	22

Other herds in which there were cows producing 40 pounds or more of butterfat were those of Edgar H. Leer, York Springs R. 1, and A. Irvin Hostetter, Littlestown R. 2.

During the month Miss Murren, in addition to regular association work, attended a two-day conference for southeastern Pennsylvania cow testers at New Bloomfield. These conferences are semi-annual affairs held by the testers in cooperation with the dairy extension department of the Pennsylvania State college for the purpose of enabling the testers to keep up to all that is new in dairy feeding and management information.

Ex-Judge Miller Marks Birthday

E. P. Miller, former associate judge of Adams county, is receiving congratulations today upon the occasion of his eighty-first birthday anniversary. Here to help celebrate the occasion at a family gathering are his son, Dr. G. E. Miller, Baltimore, and daughter, Mrs. W. R. Sammel, of York. The Rev. W. R. Sammel and their children, Edward and Margaret, York, and Dr. William Taylor, of Baltimore, also are here.

Mrs. J. A. Stallsmith is celebrating her ninetieth birthday anniversary today at her home in the Stallsmith building, center square.

SOLDIER VOTES BOOST GROSS' COUNTY MARGIN

Military ballots already received and counted up to noon today in Adams county added 25 votes to the margin held by Chester H. Gross over Congressman Harry L. Haines in the race for the office of congressman for the twenty-second district, it was disclosed at the county commissioners' office today.

The election night figures of 4,351 for Haines and 5,985 for Gross in this county were confirmed by the official tabulation which cannot be completed and certified until November 13 because the state election laws allow a 10-day period after the election for the receipt of military ballots.

Ballots in Ink

A problem encountered by those making the official count here—and also at Chambersburg and York, according to reports—was the fact that more than 30 of the 81 ballots received from Adams county soldiers were marked in ink. Instructions printed on the ballot specify that only pencil or indelible pencil may be used.

The office of the state bureau of elections was contacted by telephone and while no official opinion would be expressed there it was pointed out that the instructions printed on the ballot are a re-print of the state election laws. As it stands now the ink-marked ballots are uncounted and will remain so unless other instructions are received.

Gain for Gross

The properly marked military ballots added from eight to 14 votes to the previous totals of all of the Democratic candidates and from 35 to 43 to the total for each Republican candidate. Haines has received 14 military votes and Gross 39 so far.

The votes for all of the candidates will not be officially totaled and certified until next Friday.

The official count is being made by the county commissioners, their regular clerks and C. C. Bream and Theodore Lowe, special clerks.

Bombers Blast Italian Genoa

London, Nov. 7 (AP)—Britain's big, home-based bombers revisited Italy last night for the fifth time since late October, showering Genoa with fire and explosives which, by the Italians' own word, inflicted "notable damage" on Italy's most important supply port for the Axis armies in North Africa.

The Air Ministry called the attack "concentrated and effective" and the Italian communiqué itself said that "particular damage was reported in the center of the town, and in the eastern part notable damage was caused."

The long haul over continental Europe and twice across the Alps was made in bad weather, the British communiqué said, but the night skies opened over Genoa and the British bombers were able to unload on clear targets.

Mussolini Men Meekly Await British Capture

By The Associated Press
Cairo, Nov. 7—With 100,000 of Rommel's total of some 140,000 desert troops captured or trapped and his tank strength grievously crippled, the British chase of the broken and tattered Axis forces swept on today past Matruh, Egyptian port almost halfway to the Libyan border from the starting point of the Allied drive.

The headlong flight of the once-proud Axis Africa corps continued at a rapid clip, the British reported in a communique which listed 20,000 Germans and Italians already captured along with 350 tanks seized in addition to hundreds of others knocked out, and 400 guns and uncounted thousands of vehicles in the hands of the army of the Nile.

Italians Abandoned

Far behind and mostly inland from the coastal road were six Italian divisions left in the lurch when Rommel pulled stakes on the El Alamein front. Mussolini's abandoned men, in a bad way without food and water, were reported waiting meekly to be picked up when the British could get around to them.

Today's British war bulletin said the Axis remnants attempted a stand at Fuka, about 50 miles east of Matruh, but were crushed and from there the main body of Rommel's forces was pushed on beyond Matruh.

The figures given officially on Axis losses in manpower were considered here to be extremely conservative and estimates on how much manpower Rommel had left were lacking, but in the words of one military commentator "he has very little."

Are Beyond Matruh

Earlier front dispatches that the Eighth Army already was fighting in the Matruh region were supported by the communique, which disclosed that low-flying Allied aircraft were pounding the enemy at a "point west of Matruh." It was not considered likely that the Allied air forces would waste ammunition on anything but the main body of Rommel's dwindling forces.

Matruh is 104 miles west of El Alamein, where the great push started.

The 20,000 prisoners already accounted for represent at least one-seventh of Rommel's total manpower of perhaps 140,000 in the desert, it was believed. There was no mention of dead, wounded and uncounted prisoners.

The capture of 350 tanks and "many thousands of vehicles" was a crippling blow to the Axis army. Many of the Italian troops were reported stranded simply for the lack of transportation as Rommel apparently piled his German troops into available trucks and headed for Libya.

It was these riding troops who were being blasted off the roads of Egypt and scattered, dead and wounded, along the bordering desert sands.

At the highest estimate of Rommel's armored force, the 350 captured tanks represented a loss of one-third of his striking force. Some estimates of his original force placed his tank strength as low as 500 vehicles.

While the pursuit continued, heavy bombers carried out attacks on Bengasi and Tobruk, ports of supply for the tattered Axis army. At Bengasi hits were made on a tanker and at Tobruk a merchant ship was hit, the communique said.

Department Store Closed By Strike

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—Despite intervention by the War Labor board, a strike at three downtown department stores—one of which was forced to close yesterday—will continue, Charles Levey, international representative of the AFL Building Service Employees union announced early today.

Levey said more than 400 members of his union struck Wednesday after a collapse in contract negotiations. He declared the union wishes a 20 per cent wage increase, a 40-hour week, a checkoff system of dues collection and union recognition.

The department stores said they had offered a wage increase based upon living costs but that the union refused this proposal.

Women's Club Will Observe Fellowship

World Fellowship will be emphasized by Business and Professional Women's clubs of the Y. W. C. A. throughout the world next Thursday. This is an annual observance. The local club will observe the event with a dinner at the Y. W. C. A. at 6:30.

Guests of the club will be Colonel and Mrs. E. J. Oliver who will show films and speak of their life in various countries in which they have been stationed. Dr. Frederick Tilberg will be the vocal soloist and Clarence Nuss will play several violin selections.

Members may bring husbands or men friends as guests. The deadline for reservations will be Tuesday evening and members are asked to sign at the "Y." The dinner will be served by the Ways and Means committee, Mrs. Ray J. Kitzmiller, chairman. The program is in charge of the Public Affairs committee, Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, chairman.

RED REGIME BRIGHTER ON ANNIVERSARY

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by DeWitt MacKenzie, is written today by Glenn Babb. Mr. MacKenzie, now touring the war zones, is traveling.)

The Russian people celebrate today the quarter-century anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, an event which history may show to have left a more lasting imprint than any other on recent times. To a considerable portion of humanity it is the mightiest occurrence not merely on these times but of all time.

Anniversaries invite comparisons. Last night Joseph Stalin compared Russia's war situation of a generation ago with that of today to show how, at the moment, the Russian armies face the most formidable foe they have known. No exception can be taken to the grim realism of the picture drawn by the Soviet leader.

Brighter Picture

But the differences between the Russian situation of today and that of 1917, or rather between the character of the Russian nation of 1942 and that of 1917, form one of the brightest features, perhaps the most heartening of all, in the prospects of the United Nations.

The generation which is doing most of the fighting in this war is too young to remember the feeling of doom that settled over the Allies of that other war when the Bolsheviks took over. Although President Roosevelt, Anthony Eden and other leaders of the United Nations join today in felicitating the Soviet union and especially in extolling the heroism of the Russian army and people, the October revolution (so called because it came on October 25 of the old Julian calendar) was anything but a cause for rejoicing in 1917.

What a difference in the 25-year-old Soviet Russia of 1942! In Stalin's speech and in his order of the day there is assurance repeated many times that Russia, now bearing the brunt, is in the war against "that cannibal Hitler" to the end. If there is a note of reproach in the long passage on the absence of a second front, if there is the implication that Rommel's defeat is not enough—the aside remark that only 15 Axis divisions are contained in Egypt as against 240 in Russia—there is also a ringing, almost exultant, expression of confidence in the steadfastness and power of the "Anglo-Soviet-American coalition" and in victory.

Not only will there be a second front, says Stalin, because the Allies know that without it things "may end badly for all freedom loving peoples," but "the day is not far off when the enemy will feel the force of new blows of the Red Army."

Stalin Survives

The contrast between 1917 and 1942 must have been vivid in Stalin's mind as he spoke, although he referred to those ten days that shook the world a quarter century ago merely in a passing phrase. Few men alive can be so conscious of the difference. He alone of the revolutionary titans survives. Lenin is enshrined in Moscow, Trotsky's ashes rest in faraway Mexico, while the tragic end in exile of his stormy career, Kamenyev, Rykov, Zinoviev and Bukharin all have been "purged." Other political leaders of present day Russia were lesser figures in 1917. Today's military heroes, Timoshenko, Zhukov and the others, were virtually unknown.

There are some parallels between the state of World War in 1917 and today. Then as now German armies held sway across nearly the entire breadth of Europe. The war was in its fourth year and the rapid approach of the climax was apparent to all. The tremendous military and productive potential of the United States was just beginning to be felt. But France was still valiantly in the field, Japan and Italy were in the Allied camp, although the former was a lukewarm and troublesome comrade and Italy was proving unable to stand alone, as she is today.

Two mighty facts offset those points of difference today. One is the fact that the United States already has mobilized more power in men and weapons than we had ready even at the end in 1918 and that the American war machine has just begun to roll. The other is that Russia, instead of abandoning the second front as in 1917, is holding the first front while her Allies prepare for the second, holding it with a heroism that President Roosevelt hails as incomparable.

Would Return U.S. Japs After Conflict

Los Angeles, Nov. 7 (AP)—The 23rd California district of the American Legion made public yesterday a recommendation that the west coast's 122,000 persons of Japanese ancestry be sent to Japan after the war to refute Japanese propaganda.

"These repatriated Japanese, Issei (foreign-born) and Nisei (American-born) alike, can do more to Christianize Japan than 1,000 missionaries and 10,000 Bibles," said a report on Japanese problems prepared by Dr. John E. Lechner, District Americanism Commission chairman.

Governor Edward Culver presided over the Moose lodge meeting Friday at which 12 new members were received. A Christmas party to be held for the kiddies of the community was discussed but the date has not been set. Contributions were voted to the USO, the Warner hospital and the Red Cross.

Can't Buy Vests; They Buy Sweaters

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—Louis Travaglini, veteran men's clothing designer and fitter, says the government regulation eliminating the vest as part of the double breasted suit "to save wool—wasn't working out just right."

He told the Chicago Cutters' club last night that the vest elimination may tend to treble, not decrease, the amount of wool necessary to keep wearers of that type of garment comfortable this winter.

He said that buyers of double breasted garments, minus vests, have been stocking up on sweaters which require three times the amount of wool necessary to make a vest.

Issue Material For Raid Defense

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP)—The state defense council reported today that partial shipments of government-issued civilian protection equipment have been distributed to 14 Pennsylvania cities.

Dr. A. C. Marts, council director, also disclosed first allotments of fire-fighting "skid pumps" are on their way to 19 communities.

Goods received to date included 68,340 helmets, 256,100 armbands, 157,400 feet of 2 1/2 inch fire hose, 26,200 feet of 1 1/2 inch fire hose and 100,000 casualty identification tags.

The 14 communities which have received equipment were among 175 in the state selected by the U. S. office of civilian defense to get equipment purchased with part of a $100,000,000 appropriation made by Congress.

The communities were selected on a basis of vulnerability to attack. The bulk of the equipment is fire-fighting tools. Most of the rest consists of protective clothing for air raid workers and medical supplies.

MINISTERIUM MEETING

A re-organization meeting of the Adams County Ministerium will be held Tuesday at 10 o'clock at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, according to notices mailed by the Rev. E. Philip Seif, Mohrystown, the secretary.

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, minority leader in the House, announced today that he would resign as chairman of the Republican National committee at a meeting to be held in St. Louis December 7.

NAZI DEAD ARE RISING BEFORE "RED GUNPITS"

BY EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Nov. 7 (AP)—The Red army threw the Germans from two fortified positions in a factory area of Stalingrad today and held firmly from the Arctic to the deep Caucasus against Nazi efforts to crack the defense lines.

Gray-uniformed dead continued to pile up before Stalingrad gunpits. The Russians were reported to have handed out heavy punishment to the invaders on the Black sea and Naichik-Ordzhonikidze fronts.

The Russians celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution today with encouraging reports from defense fronts and the assurance by Premier Stalin that new Soviet counterblows soon would fall upon Hitler's battle-depleted armies.

"We can and must clear the Hitlerite filth from our Soviet soil," Stalin declared in an order of the day.

8 Million Is Toll

While tension mounts in the fighting zones, the war leader said, the Soviet people have emerged from their trials with honor "and are filled with an unshakable faith in victory."

He said more than 8,000,000 invaders already had been put out of action and that the day was not far off when the German legions—"watered down with Rumanians, Hungarians, Italians and Finns"—would feel the force of fresh Red army blows.

Following up a statement yesterday that the Allies would open a second front "sooner or later," Stalin gravely acknowledged gains made by the Germans since June through the concentration of forces against Stalingrad and the Caucasus.

"The Red army is carrying the full weight of the war against Hitlerite Germany and its accomplices," he said. "By its self-sacrificing struggle against the fascist army it has won the love and respect of all Freedom-loving peoples of the world."

Further Nazi fortifications were wrecked by Soviet shellfire on the steppes northeast of the city, now in its 75th day of siege, the noon communique said.

About 1,000 of the enemy were declared to have perished in vain efforts yesterday to expand their holdings in Stalingrad, falling back to their original lines despite tank and plane support.

HOPE FADING FOR DECISION ON DRY ISSUE

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Members of Congress could find today but few signs from Tuesday's elections to point the way national opinion now runs on the liquor issue and there appeared little immediate prospect of the old and bitter wet-dry conflict breaking again on capitol hill.

Wets and dries alike probed for significance in dry Oklahoma's defeat of Senator Josh Lee, while results from scattered local option votes were mixed—some going wet, some dry, most maintaining a status quo.

The liquor question was reinjected squarely into national pre-election politics by Lee's proposal to ban the sale of spirits from Army camp areas. But his amendment to the "teen-age draft bill" was shunted to the Senate Military committee, by a 49 to 25 Senate vote.

Not Much Interest

Joseph Daniels, first World War Secretary of the Navy and former ambassador to Mexico, has sent a personal request to Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the Military committee, that the measure be brought out for immediate consideration.

However, many members believed the liquor issue would remain bottled-up in both Houses.

An effort by dry forces to outlaw liquor sales at or around Army cantonments was defeated in the Massachusetts state elections, with the soldiers themselves casting few ballots.

George W. Crabbe, general secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of America, said today he was "very much surprised at Senator Lee's defeat," but declared "I don't believe the liquor issue beat anyone in the elections. I mean the fact a man was dry."

He reported there was "no move for national prohibition on foot for the present moment," and added: "I believe national prohibition will return, but it will be through process of education and local option."

$70,000 FOR RELIEF

Los Angeles, Nov. 7 (AP)—Orchestra leader Phil Harris and his entire 25 piece band enlisted in the Maritime service. Harris, commissioned a lieutenant, junior grade, said that hereafter the money he receives from his $70,000 a year contract for a 30-minute appearance on the Jack Benny radio program would be contributed to the merchant seamen relief.

Upper Communities

The November meeting of the Women's Missionary society of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, was held Friday evening at the parsonage. The feature of the program was a playlet depicting the life of the family of Henry Muhlenberg. Included in the cast were Mrs. U. S. Kleinfelter, Mrs. E. Dale Heiges, Mrs. Charles L. Yost, Miss Nettie Raffensperger, Miss Myrtle Raffensperger, Miss Bertha Heiges, Mrs. S. E. Kapp, Mrs. Lloyd W. Kleinfelter and Mrs. Earl Carey. Miss Myrtle Raffensperger gave a report of the convention of the Women's Missionary societies of the West Pennsylvania conference held in York recently. It was decided to hold the annual Thank-Offering service in connection with the Sunday school exercises on November 15.

Mrs. H. Tyler Miller, who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed, Biglerville, has gone to Maytown for a visit with friends before returning to her home at Rumson, New Jersey.

The Upper County Lions club has secured a billy-goat for a mascot and it has been decided that any member missing two successive meetings must take over custody of the goat for two weeks. Bruce Burtner is now in charge of the goat.

The Christian Endeavor society of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, will meet Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. "What Can We Do to Prepare for Peace?" will be the topic for discussion with Miss Nettie Raffensperger as the leader.

Mrs. Revere Thomas, Mrs. Charles E. Raffensperger, Mrs. Ellis McCracken and daughter, Brenda, Biglerville, were visitors to Harrisburg, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Goshert, Shipensburg, were guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. George Reisinger, Biglerville.

The Biglerville school board held its regular meeting Friday evening. A discussion as to the advisability of opening the schools at a later hour in the morning was held. All members were present.

Convoy Battles Submarine Pack

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—An Allied convoy recently fought a three-day battle with an enemy submarine pack in the north Atlantic, the Navy disclosed today, and at least one Allied merchantman was sunk.

The fact that the battle had been fought with depth charges and torpedoes churning the ocean for so many hours on end, was given out by the Navy incidental to its announcement of the sinking of the merchant vessel, a medium sized craft of Panamanian registry.

There were 40 survivors of this ship who were landed at an Allied port after four days in life rafts and rowboats. A neutral ship picked them up and brought them to shore and they since have returned to this country.

The ship went down "on a Sunday afternoon in September," the Navy said, declining otherwise to fix the time of the action or to disclose whether more Allied vessels were destroyed by the submarine pack.

Death Rate In State Decreasing

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP)—Dr. A. H. Stewart, secretary of Health, said today that Pennsylvania had a lower death rate for the first six months of 1942 than for the same period in '41 or '40.

Death rates per 1,000 population were 11.8 in the first half of 1940, 11.5 in 1941 and 11.02 this year.

Sharp decreases in mortality for typhoid fever, diphtheria, influenza and pneumonia were noted this year over last. Maternal, infant and tuberculosis deaths also were reduced. Deaths from automobile accidents remained about the same and little change was reported in deaths from heart disease and cancer.

The death rate for syphilis for the six months of this year was put at 10.9 per 100,000 population, about one-fourth the death rate for tuberculosis—39.5 per 100,000.

Arendtsville

Richard Allison visited recently in York.

Mrs. D. B. Lady and Mrs. Marshall Longanecker were among those from town who attended the Nevins regional Guild meeting at the Evangelical Reformed church in Hanover on Wednesday.

Andrew Kane, who has been a patient in the Warner hospital for a number of weeks suffering from severe injuries suffered in a fall while picking fruit, is improved and is expected to return to his home here within a few days.

Those from the Arendtsville charge of the Evangelical and Reformed church who attended the men's consistorial conference in Grace church, Hanover, on Thursday evening, were the Rev. Ernest W. Brindle, Merle Culp, Norman Blocher, George P. Taylor, Bruce Taylor, Harry Kime, Dorsey Martz, Clair Taylor, Ivan Gulden, George Myers, Melvin Deardorff and Herbert Miller.

Plans To Auction Barrymore Estate

Los Angeles, Nov. 7 (AP)—That $33,000 Bel-Air estate the late John Barrymore gave to his fourth wife, Elaine Barrie, as a peace offering during one of their numerous and violent marital spats, but which didn't forestall their ultimate divorce, goes on the auction block shortly.

The actress, explaining that "I just don't have time to devote to such a large home"—it's a 14-room house on a three-acre tract—said she expects to take a small apartment, "just enough room for myself, my two canaries and three dogs."

Bank Surrenders Gold To Germany

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—The Bank of France admitted yesterday in the state Supreme Court that it had turned over $228,000,000 in gold to Germany "under compulsion" of the Vichy government, as it answered a suit brought by the National Bank of Belgium for the recovery of the gold.

For this reason, the Bank of France claimed, it had been "relieved of any further obligations" for the gold which Daniel de Gorter and Henri Wild as assignees of the Belgian bank claim was entrusted to the French bank before the invasion of Belgium in 1940.

Captain's Death Revealed By Ring

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 7 (AP)—A letter telling of a ring found in the stomach of a shark caught off the coast of Cuba has been filed in the Norfolk Circuit court as mute testimony to the death of Captain George Dewey Hodges, whose ship was torpedoed and sunk north of Cuba last July.

The outside of the large signet ring bore the initials "G. D. H." the letter said, and on the inside was engraved "E. R. G. 17." Mrs. Hodges, the former Edna Randolph Green, said she gave such a ring to Hodges in 1917.

Hodges and 19 others were lost in the sinking of the ship. Fourteen were saved.

Harry Mason, Akron, is spending a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Mason.

Seeking Scrap On Bottom Of Lake

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 7 (AP)—Lake Michigan is the locale for Waukegan's current scrap drive.

Two veteran divers—father and son—have been employed to work in the cold waters of Waukegan harbor to recover about 1,800 feet of pipe, installed 40 years ago and unused since 1929 when a new water pumping station was built. In addition to the pipe, the divers hope to recover a copper intake screen weighing more than 1,000 pounds and 15 tons of ball joints.

Mechanicsburg Downs Maroons 26-13 As Hanover Clinches Conference Honors

ENGLE'S JAUNTS CRUSH LOCALS; SACHS SCORES 2

Gettysburg high school's football machine was knocked out of the race for the Southern Pennsylvania conference championship Friday evening when Mechanicsburg's speedy outfit pulled a mild upset to hand the Maroons their second defeat of the season at Mechanicsburg to the tune of a 26-13 score before about 2,500 fans.

Hanover high's unbeaten eleven clinched the 1942 title by lacing Hershey at Hanover 32-14. Last year the Nighthawks and Mechanicsburg finished in a deadlock for first place and were declared co-champions.

The Maroons' setback can be traced to the efforts of Engle, speedy Mechanicsburg back, who was a thorn in the side of the Fomymen all evening. He tallied two touchdowns and hurled a pass which resulted in a third score. Engle raced 82 yards for his first score and 28 yards for another touchdown.

Sachs Keeps Pace
Engle's work was matched almost completely by the play of Ross Sachs, who was easily the outstanding performer for Gettysburg. Sachs tabbed two touchdowns to keep him high in the league scoring and was the only consistent ground-gainer for the Maroons.

Wickerham kicked off to start the game and Engle returned to his 35. The Maroon and Gray team rolled off two straight first downs before Stewart got off a nice kick that went out of bounds on the Maroons' 10. Sachs and Sherman combined to reel off two straight first downs and then Sachs punted to the Mechanicsburg 30. Stewart was soon forced to return the punt and Sachs made a pretty 40-yard run back to midfield. Sherman got around end for 11 yards and lateralled to Wickerham for a first down on Mechanicsburg's 37 as the period ended.

Opening the second period Sachs whipped a pass to Odert which was good for about 15 yards and a first down on the 15. Mechanicsburg braced and took the ball on its eight.

Engle's First
The first Mechanicsburg tally came two plays later. Engle picked up eight yards around end and on the next play he swept around his own left end behind nice interference to 40. 82 yards for a score. Stewart added the extra point on a placement.

Oyler returned Stewart's kickoff to his own 40 and then Sachs scampered 25 yards to reach the enemy's 35. Again the Maroon attack faltered and then Stewart, who played a good game, broke through to block Sachs' punt and recover on Gettysburg's 40. Coach Fredericks' lads could get nowhere and Stewart punted to Sachs on the 20.

After an exchange of punts, Odert recovered a fumble on Mechanicsburg's 45 stripe to pave the way for the Maroons' first tally. A run and lateral Sachs to Sherman, was good for nine yards and Sherman hit the line for a first down on the 34. Sachs picked up two yards at center and then ran 15 to reach the 15. Mechanicsburg braced but on the last down Sachs went around left end to reach the eight. Two plays later Sachs swept right end for a score. Wickerham's kick was blocked after the pass from center was high.

Block Punt, Score
Another blocked punt by Dixon gave Mechanicsburg the spark for its second touchdown in the early minutes of the third period. The punt was recovered on Gettysburg's 28 from where Engle raced around right end for a score. Again Stewart converted.

The fighting Maroons roared right back and marched 85 yards for a score. With Sachs running strong and aided by two passes, Sachs to Wickerham, and Sachs to Spahr, four straight first downs were recorded and then the Maroon ace raced around end from the 12 for a tally. Wickerham booted the extra point.

A few plays later Mechanicsburg scored again. Keet ran 11 yards for a first down at midfield and then Engle got off a 35-yard jaunt to reach the 14. After Engle lost a yard on a line play, Keet on a lateral went around left end for a score. Stewart's placement was low.

Pass for Tally
Using an off-side kickoff which was recovered on Gettysburg's 40, Mechanicsburg, the Fredericks-backed aggregation soon scored again. Engle made five yards on a plunge and after another play failed. Engle passed 15 yards to Stewart who lateralled to Dixon who raced the remaining distance for

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Now that it seems reasonably sure the Rose Bowl game will go on as usual New Year's Day, we'd like to sit in on the dicker for teams to play in the various bowls. . . . Ought to provide some of the season's best fun. . . .

The Rose Bowl still carries the greatest prestige, but somehow we just can't see a team passing up a nice guarantee from New Orleans or Dallas this year just to sit and wait for the siren call from Pasadena. There's still a chance that another kind of siren might start calling out there and the whole thing would be cancelled. . . . As we get it, that Army approval lasts just as long as the Army figures the game and the crowd won't interfere with anything connected with the war. And while we hardly expect trouble, that possibility will give the other bowls a swell talking point. . . . Come to think of it, we wonder what sort of chances the colleges will take on Miami's having enough winter business to make the Orange Bowl profitable. . . . Or if anybody will give a darn about bowl games by that time?

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

John Mooney, Salt Lake Telegram: "At least it won't be necessary to carve busts of Morton Cooper and Joe Gordon as the most valuable player in each major league. Each did an artistic job on making a bust of himself in the World series."

SCRAP COLLECTION

One of sport's most exclusive organizations will have a reunion at the Princeton-Dartmouth game today. It's the "blizzard men of '35." . . . Membership is limited to 22 players on the field and the volunteer from the stands who helped make that snowbound game memorable. . . . When the New York Rovers Hockey team returned from its game in Baltimore the other night, the players had to ride in the baggage car because the coaches were filled. . . . From body checks to trunk checks.

POSTMAN'S PARAGRAPH

Coming to the support of Sgt. (T) Max E. R. Keiffer, the staunch upholder of small-college basketball, Sports Editor Leo Fischer of the Chicago Herald-American points out that his all-star basketball team of the past two years have included players from such places as Delta (Mia.) Teachers. . . . But he also remarks "we really did some digging." . . . Leo also hopes Sgt. Keiffer can get out to see the game, and so do we. . . . Did we mention that Sgt. (T) Max's letters come from somewhere in the southwest Pacific area?

SERVICE DEPT.

When Steve Rachunok, former Detroit sandlotter who pitched for Indianapolis last season, goes into the Army next week, he'll be No. 3 on the family service roster. Brother Alex is in officers' training school at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and brother Walter in the Marines. Another brother, Johnny, expects to be called within a few weeks. . . . Angelo Sisti, the big Boston college tackle who says his hobby is solving physics problems, is due to report to M.I.T. for an Army course in meteorology the day before the B. C.-Fordham game.

a score. The Maroon line broke through to block the placement. . . . Flocks of substitutes poured from both benches in the waning minutes of the game. The Maroons started another drive and when the game ended had reached the Mechanicsburg eight-yard stripe.

Coach Forney's lads recorded 16 first downs to their opponents' six but Engle's long runs proved too much to overcome. The Maroons completed seven of 18 passes while Mechanicsburg made good on one of three aerial tries.

76,000 TO SEE CADETS-IRISH BATTLE TODAY

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—New York city, which prides itself on its indifference unless the event is something important like a bargain basement sale, is all worked up today in its role as host to a trio of football games.

Everyone of the 76,000 seats in Yankee stadium had been sold for the twenty-ninth meeting between Notre Dame and Army in which the Irish are 3 to 1 favorites to gain their twenty-first triumph.

Just across the river in the Polo Grounds, Fordham and Louisiana State mix before a throng of 18,000 and a similar crowd shuffles all the way to the northern tip of Manhattan for Columbia's rouser with Colgate.

While all this is going on in the nation's metropolis, Wisconsin and Georgia Tech defend unblemished records against rugged foes in their own communities.

Badgers Vs. Iowa
The Badgers, Big Ten leaders and winners a week ago over Ohio State, are at Iowa City for what may be Wisconsin's toughest game. The Iowans have the heaviest line in the Big Ten and an attack built around the passing of Tom Farmer.

Kentucky is Georgia Tech's foe and the Wildcats have prepared for the struggle by losing, 7 to 6, to Georgia and dropping a 14 to 0 decision to Alabama.

Michigan's two teams participate in a pair of intercollegiate games, the university entertaining a weakened Harvard outfit and the State college Spartans invading Washington State.

Missouri is at Nebraska for a game that likely will determine the Big Six champion, Indiana is at Minnesota, Illinois is host to Northwestern and Ohio State hopes to get back on the winning path at the expense of Pittsburgh.

Georgia Vs. Florida
The Iowa Pre-Flighters and Fort Knox meet at Louisville and Great Lakes collides with a Purdue eleven that has been able to get only 21 points in six games.

Georgia, which bounded over the Alabama hurdle last Saturday, has T-minded Florida as its opposition while the Crimson tide is busy with South Carolina. Unpredictable Tuane takes on Mississippi State, Mississippi is at Vanderbilt and Auburn tests the Georgia Pre-Flight combination.

The day's second largest crowd probably goes to Franklin Field where Pennsylvania is host to the battered forces of Navy. Some 70,000 tickets have been sold.

Yale is determined to make Cornell its third straight victim and Oxide Solem's once-beaten Syracuse outfit invades Penn State. Brown, still without Bob Margarita, goes to Holy Cross and Dartmouth is at Princeton.

Villanova Wins
In the only major game on last night's curtailed card, Villanova knocked off Iowa State, an intercollegiate opponent from the Big Six conference, 32-7.

Al Postus was the main cog in the Philadelphia's attack. He scored two touchdowns and passed for two more, completing nine of the 13 aerials he tried for a total of 127 yards. The last Villanova marker came in the final 30 seconds, when Tom McCarthy, a substitute, slipped off tackle and raced 73 yards.

NEW FURLOUGH PLAN NOV. 16TH

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters today listed effective dates for the switch from 14-day to seven-day furloughs for draftees in five of the eight Pennsylvania induction centers.

Under War Department orders, the shorter furloughs went into effect at the Philadelphia center last Monday, and become effective at Wilkes-Barre, November 9; Harrisburg, November 16, and Erie and Pittsburgh, November 23.

Dates for stations in Allentown, Altoona and Gettysburg will be announced later.

SPORT SHORTS

New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—Bridegroom Buddy Hassett, who landed the first base job with the New York Yankees last season after nine years with various other baseball teams, probably will change uniforms again before another season rolls around. Hassett has notified the Yanks that he intends to join the Navy.

Camp Robinson, Calif., Nov. 7 (AP)—The best ski jumper of them all soon will be a member of Uncle Sam's Snow Troops.

Torger Torkle, the Norwegian world's champion who started skiing at the age of three, is a private. He will join the ski troops as soon as he completes his basic training.

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—Chicago's long racing season comes to a close today just where it started 168 days ago—at the Sportsman's Park half mile oval. An extra week was added to Sportsman's fall meeting, with proceeds going to Chicago charities. Sandwiched between the two sportsman's seasons were meetings at Lincoln Fields, Arlington Park, Washington Park and Hawthorne.

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—Frankie Crosetti can set out 30 days of the 1943 baseball season and get away with it. But it wasn't the New York Yankee infielder's idea. Commissioner K. M. Landis yesterday suspended him for that period starting next season because he pushed Umpire William Summers in the third game of the 1942 World Series.

Landis also fined Crosetti $250. Teammate Joe Gordon was assessed a similar fine "for language addressed to Umpire George Magerkuth" in the same game.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 7 (AP)—Lou Nova, the heavyweight yogi man, launched a comeback attempt last night by knocking out Ernie Nordman, goodhand, Kas., in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

GEORGIA, UCLA IN BOWL GLARE

Los Angeles, Nov. 7 (AP)—Last week, before the 1943 Rose Bowl football game seemed a certainty, Los Angeles sports writers were pounding out rhapsodies on their word planes about Georgia's Frankie Sinkwich and what a natural a Georgia-UCLA post season game would be.

Now that the Army is willing to sanction the Pasadena game New Year's Day, Georgia's Bulldogs and the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins still are the "peepful" choice here, but by November 28 Georgia Tech's Engineers might be the standout southern team and UCLA just another ball club.

UCLA still must prove it is the standout team on the Pacific coast. Its games against Oregon this week and Washington November 21 should settle the issue, and right after the Washington game the Bruins, if they are still undefeated in Conference play, are going to get the wires busy and try to entice a standout opponent here before the Orange and Sugar Bowls beat them to the punch.

If UCLA stubs its toe anywhere along the line Washington State's Cougars look like the Pacific titleholder.

Druggist Wounds Would-be Bandit

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—Harry Bluestone, Pittsburgh druggist proprietor who killed one bandit and wounded another in two previous holdups, wounded one of two armed men who attempted a holdup at his store last night.

Police said Bluestone was seated in a booth and was not noticed by the bandits who leveled revolvers at a book-keeper behind a fountain, announcing "this is a stick-up."

Bluestone pulled a gun, jumped to his feet and exchanged shots with the bandits, one of whom fell

Arrows indicate approximate direction of heavy winds reported in the Bahamas area. Late advice indicated the main force of the blow would pass between the southern tip of Florida and Cuba, but south Florida residents were taking no chances and many boarded up their windows.

BIGLER SCRUBS TRIP MAROONS

A touchdown in the last minute of play gave the Biglerville high re-serves a 7-0 victory over the Gettysburg high jayvees here Friday afternoon.

A long run by Arnold in the last period put the Haehnlen-men deep in their own territory and in the last minute of play McClimans went through the line to score from the 2-yard mark. Arnold scored the extra point on a pass.

The defeat was the third in a row for Gettysburg. Next Thursday the team will play a return game at Biglerville.

Duquesne Pining Hopes On Kielbasa

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—Duquesne football coach Buff Donelli counted heavily on Right Halfback Max Kielbasa in today's intercollegiate gridiron contest here with St. Mary's of California.

"He's the most natural back I ever coached," Donelli said yesterday as he pointed to Kielbasa. The explosive halfback, a tackle in his high school football days at Brownsville, has spearheaded the Duke attack all season, most of his touchdowns being scored on long runs.

He raced 82 yards against Holy Cross, 62 yards against Manhattan and 33 yards against North Carolina. "Kielbasa can do everything well," Donelli commented. "He punts, kicks off, converts extra points beautifully and does everything just right." So far this season, Kielbasa has scored six touchdowns and booted three extra points.

Youth Is Killed Playing "Robber"

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Fayette County Coroner L. R. Herrington reported a game of "cops and robbers" ended fatally near here last night when Edward Bartakovich, 12, was shot at the home of a neighbor.

Herrington said Bartakovich and three other boys, all 12, were playing with a shotgun and two revolvers. He reported a companion whose gun discharged declared he became frightened when an uncle rapped on the door.

Herrington said the three boys playing with Bartakovich had been released pending an inquest.

To the floor as the other fled. Police said the wounded man, reported in serious condition, identified himself as William Shook, 20, of Pittsburgh. Bluestone was not struck. He calmly related that in 1938 he wounded one of a pair of bandits and was himself shot. Four years later another bandit pair tried to hold up the store and Bluestone shot and killed one of them.

RED REGIME BRIGHTER ON ANNIVERSARY

This column, conducted as a daily feature by DeWitt MacKenzie, is written today by Glenn Babb. Mr. MacKenzie, now touring the war zones, is traveling.

The Russian people celebrate today the quarter-century anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, an event which history may show to have left a more lasting imprint than any other on recent times. To a considerable portion of humanity it is the mightiest occurrence not merely on these times but of all time.

Anniversaries invite comparisons. Last night Joseph Stalin compared Russia's war situation of a generation ago with that of today to show how, at the moment, the Russian armies face the most formidable foe they have known. No exception can be taken to the grim realism of the picture drawn by the Soviet leader.

But the differences between the Russian situation of today and that of 1917, or rather between the character of the Russian nation of 1942 and that of 1917, form one of the brightest features, perhaps the most heartening of all, in the prospects of the United Nations.

The generation which is doing most of the fighting in this war is too young to remember the feeling of doom that settled over the Allies of that other war when the Bolsheviks took over. Although President Roosevelt, Anthony Eden and other leaders of the United Nations join today in felicitating the Soviet union and especially in extolling the heroism of the Russian army and people, the October revolution (so called because it came on October 25 of the old Julian calendar) was anything but a cause for rejoicing in 1917.

What a difference in the 25-year-old Soviet Russia of 1942! In Stalin's speech and in his order of the day there is assurance repeated many times that Russia, now bearing the brunt, is in the war against "that cannibal Hitler" to the end. If there is a note of reproach in the long passage on the absence of a second front, if there is the implication that Rome's defeat is not enough—the aside remark that only 15 Axis divisions are contained in Egypt as against 240 in Russia—there is also a ringing, almost exultant, expression of confidence in the steadfastness and power of the "Anglo-Soviet-American coalition" and in victory.

Not only will there be a second front, says Stalin, because the Allies know that without it things "may end badly for all freedom loving peoples" but "the day is not far off when the enemy will feel the force of new blows of the Red Army."

Stalin Survives

The contrast between 1917 and 1942 must have been vivid in Stalin's mind as he spoke, although he referred to those ten days that shook the world a quarter century ago merely in a passing phrase. Few men alive can be so conscious of the difference. He alone of the revolutionary titans survives. Lenin is enshrined in Moscow. Trotsky's ashes rest in faraway Mexico, which saw the tragic end in exile of his stormy career. Kameney, Rykov, Zinoviev and Bucharin all have been "purged." Other political leaders of present day Russia were lesser figures in 1917. Today's military heroes, Timoshenko, Zhukov and the others, were virtually unknown.

There are some parallels between the state of World war in 1917 and today. Then as now German armies held sway across nearly the entire breadth of Europe. The war was in its fourth year and the rapid approach of the climax was apparent to all. The tremendous military and productive potential of the United States was just beginning to be felt. But France was still tactically in the field. Japan and Italy were in the Allied camp, although the former was a lukewarm and troublesome comrade and Italy was proving unable to stand alone, as she is today.

Two mighty facts offset those points of difference today. One is the fact that the United States already has mobilized more power in men and weapons than we had ready even at the end in 1918 and that the American war machine has just begun to roll. The other is that Russia, instead of abandoning the second front as in 1917, is holding the first front while her Allies prepare for the second. Holding it with a heroism that President Roosevelt hails as incomparable.

NAZI DEAD ARE RISING BEFORE "RED GUNPITS"

BY EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Nov. 7 (AP)—The Red army threw the Germans from two fortified positions in a factory area of Stalingrad today and held firmly from the Arctic to the deep Caucasus against Nazi efforts to crack the defense lines.

Gray-uniformed dead continued to pile up before Stalingrad gunpits. The Russians were reported to have handed out heavy punishment to the invaders on the Black sea and Nalchik-Ordzhonikidze fronts.

The Russians celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution today with encouraging reports from defense fronts and the assurance by Premier Stalin that new Soviet counterblows soon would fall upon Hitler's battle-depleted armies.

"We can and must clear the Hitlerite filth from our Soviet soil," Stalin declared in an order of the day.

8 Million Is Toll

While tension mounts in the fighting zones, the war leader said, the Soviet people have emerged from their trials with honor "and are filled with an unshakable faith in victory."

He said more than 8,000,000 invaders already had been put out of action and that the day was not far off when the German legions—"watered down with Rumanians, Hungarians, Italians and Finns"—would feel the force of fresh Red army blows.

Following up a statement yesterday that the Allies would open a second front "sooner or later," Stalin gravely acknowledged gains made by the Germans since June through the concentration of forces against Stalingrad and the Caucasus.

"The Red army is carrying the full weight of the war against Hitlerite Germany and its accomplices," he said. "By its self-sacrificing struggle against the Fascist army it has won the love and respect of all Freedom-loving peoples of the world."

Further Nazi fortifications were wrecked by Soviet shellfire on the northeast of the city, now in its 75th day of siege, the noon communique said.

About 1,000 of the enemy were declared to have perished in vain efforts yesterday to expand their holdings in Stalingrad, falling back to their original lines, despite tank and plane support.

Upper Communities

Arendtsville

The November meeting of the Women's Missionary society of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, was held Friday evening at the parsonage. The feature of the program was a playlet depicting the life of the family of Henry Muhlenberg. Included in the cast were Mrs. U. S. Kleinfelter, Mrs. E. Dale Heiges, Mrs. Charles L. Yost, Miss Nettie Raffensperger, Miss Myrtle Raffensperger, Miss Bertha Heiges, Mrs. S. E. Kapp, Mrs. Lloyd W. Kleinfelter and Mrs. Earl Carey. Miss Myrtle Raffensperger gave a report of the convention of the Women's Missionary societies of the West Pennsylvania conference held in York recently. It was decided to hold the annual Thank-Offering service in connection with the Sunday school exercises on November 15.

Mrs. H. Tyler Miller, who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed, Biglerville, has gone to Maytown for a visit with friends before returning to her home at Runson, New Jersey.

The Upper County Lions club has secured a billy-goat for a mascot and it has been decided that any member missing two successive meetings must take over custody of the goat for two weeks. Bruce Burtner is now in charge of the goat.

The Christian Endeavor society of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, will meet Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. "What Can We Do to Prepare for Peace?" will be the topic for discussion with Miss Nettie Raffensperger as the leader.

Mrs. Revere Thomas, Mrs. Charles E. Raffensperger, Mrs. Ellis McCracken and daughter, Brenda, Biglerville, were visitors to Harrisburg, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Goshert, Shippenburg, were guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. George Reisinger, Biglerville.

The Biglerville school board held its regular meeting Friday evening. A discussion as to the advisability of opening the schools at a later hour in the morning was held. All members were present.

Lloyd W. Kleinfelter, chairman of the Biglerville salvage committee, announces that about 2,000 pounds of salvage have been collected from the barrels which have been placed at the stores in Biglerville. Residents are asked to continue to place small articles in the barrels.

Mrs. Elson G. Lower, Table Rock, and her sister, Mrs. T. E. Blair, Jackson, Michigan, have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Blair, Providence, Rhode Island. Miss Helen Lower, Cynwyd, Philadelphia, is spending the week-end at her home and has as her guest, Mrs. McFarland, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Revere Thomas and Mrs. Ellis McCracken, Biglerville, attended the funeral of their cousin, Marvey C. Warren, in Mechanicsburg, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reisinger, Biglerville, are spending the week-end with Mrs. Reisinger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Grubb, Liverpool, and with Mr. Reisinger's father, D. W. Reisinger, Ickesburg.

Truck Driver Is Accidentally Shot

Roy Chapman, 55, Orrtanna R. D., is a patient in the Warner hospital as the result of gunshot wounds to his right thigh received Friday.

Chapman is reported to have been hauling wood with a truck and when he stepped from the cab of the truck his gun, which had been lying beside him, fell to the ground and discharged. The wounds are not considered as serious.

MOOSE WOMEN INSTALL NOV. 15

The institution of the new Gettysburg unit of the Women of the Moose will take place at 2 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, November 15, in the home of the local Moose lodge on York street, it was decided at a lodge session Friday evening.

Initiatory work will be conducted by the Hanover degree team and a national officer, Mrs. Frieda Clinger, graduate grand regent, will address the gathering. Officers recently elected by the local Moose women will be installed.

Governor Edward Culver presided over the Moose lodge meeting Friday at which 12 new members were received. A Christmas party to be held for the kiddies of the community was discussed but the date has not been set. Contributions were voted to the USO, the Warner hospital and the Red Cross.

Can't Buy Vests; They Buy Sweaters

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP)—Louis Travaglini, veteran men's clothing designer and fitter, says the government regulation eliminating the vest as part of the double breasted suit —to save wool—wasn't working out just right.

He told the Chicago Cutters' club last night that the vest elimination may tend to treble, not decrease, the amount of wool necessary to keep wearers of that type of garment comfortable this winter.

He said that buyers of double breasted garments, minus vests, have been stocking up on sweaters which require three times the amount of wool necessary to make a vest.

Issue Material For Raid Defense

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP)—The state defense council reported today that partial shipments of government-leased civilian protection equipment have been distributed to 14 Pennsylvania cities.

Dr. A. C. Marts, council director, also disclosed first allotments of fire-fighting "skid pumps" are on their way to 19 communities.

Goods received to date included 68,340 helmets, 256,100 armbands, 157,400 feet of 2½ inch fire hose, 26,200 feet of 1½ inch fire hose and 100,000 casualty identification tags.

The 14 communities which have received equipment were among 175 in the state selected by the U. S. office of civilian defense to get equipment purchased with part of a $100,000,000 appropriation made by Congress.

The communities were selected on a basis of vulnerability to attack. The bulk of the equipment is fire-fighting tools. Most of the rest consists of protective clothing for air raid workers and medical supplies.

HOPE FADING FOR DECISION ON DRY ISSUE

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Members of Congress could find today but few signs from Tuesday's elections to point the way national opinion now runs on the liquor issue and there appeared little immediate prospect of the old and bitter wet-dry conflict breaking again on capitol hill.

Wets and dries alike probed for significance in Josh Lee, while results from scattered local option votes were mixed—some going wet, some dry, most maintaining a status quo.

The liquor question was reinjected squarely into national pre-election politics by Lee's proposal to ban the sale of spirits from Army camp areas. But his amendment to the "teen-age draft bill" was shunted to the Senate Military committee, by a 49 to 25 Senate vote.

Not Much Interest

Joseph Daniels, first World War Secretary of the Navy and former ambassador to Mexico, has sent a personal request to Chairman Reynolds (D-N.C.) of the Military committee, that the measure be brought out for immediate consideration.

However, many members believed the liquor issue would remain bottled-up in both Houses.

An effort by dry forces to outlaw liquor sales at or around Army cantonments was defeated in the Massachusetts state elections, with the soldiers themselves casting few ballots.

George W. Crabbe, general secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of America, said today he was "very much surprised at Senator Lee's defeat," but declared "I don't believe the liquor issue beat anyone in the elections. I mean the fact a man was dry."

He reported there was "no move for national prohibition on foot for the present moment," and added: "I believe national prohibition will return, but it will be through process of education and local option."

CLOSES BEAUTY SHOP

Mrs. Nellie K. Buchi today closed her beauty shop at 122 Chambersburg street and announced that she is retiring from business because of ill health. She has been in business for the last 12 years, under the name of Nellie's Beauty Shop.

MARTIN TO RESIGN

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, minority leader in the House, announced today that he would resign as chairman of the Republican National committee at a meeting to be held in St. Louis December 7.

Death Rate In State Decreasing

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP)—Dr. A. H. Stewart, secretary of Health, said today that Pennsylvania had a lower death rate for the first six months of 1942 than for the same period in '41 or '40.

Death rates per 1,000 population were 11.8 in the first half of 1940, 11.5 in 1941 and 11.02 this year.

Sharp decreases in mortality for typhoid fever, diphtheria, influenza and pneumonia were noted this year over last. Maternal, infant and tuberculosis deaths also were reduced. Deaths from automobile accidents remained about the same and little change was reported in deaths from heart disease and cancer.

The death rate for syphilis for the six months of this year was put at 10.9 per 100,000 population, about one-fourth the death rate for tuberculosis—39.5 per 100,000.

Seeking Scrap On Bottom Of Lake

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 7 (AP)—Lake Michigan is the locale for Waukegan's current search for scrap.

Two veteran divers—father and son—have been employed to work in the cold waters of Waukegan harbor to recover about 1,800 feet of pipe, installed 40 years ago but unused since 1929 when a new water pumping station was built. In addition to the pipe, the divers hope to recover a copper intake screen weighing more than 1,000 pounds and 15 tons of ball joints.

These are what all men must seek. Day by day and week by week. Month by month and year by year. Peace and age untouched by fear.

Peace to use God-given strength. Through the prime of manhood's length. And when old age ends the scene. Comfort and a mind serene.

These men hope for till they die: Bread their tables to supply. Health for loved ones day by day. Love and faith for come what may.

These are joys that cannot be. Lost to earn them men are free. Whosoever tyrants reign. All is heartache, grief and pain.

Today's Talk

THE PURE PLEASURE OF IT!
People who get the most out of life, breathe into what they do, an enthusiasm for their work—just for the pure pleasure that they get of it! Admiral Peary once wrote to me that this was the controlling idea that he had in the discovery of the North Pole. To have done a job—never before accomplished, for the pure pleasure of having done it.

I have hired a great many people during my business career, but upon interviewing each one, I have shied from those who first asked: "What money do I get out of it?" or "Can I buy an interest in the business?" I still have two—I call them boys—who came to me over 25 years ago, both of them so anxious for a job that each said he was even willing to work for nothing to start, if I would only give him the chance. Needless to state, each made good from the start—and he didn't have to work for nothing!

You can pick the happy workers out of every organization. They have a different light in their eyes. They look healthier—and you know at once that they are working for far more than comes to them for their week's work.

To be at work, to be busy, in itself, is compensation. The pure pleasure of being at work at something that is interesting, educational, and inspiring, is what brings satisfaction. "Blessed is that man," once wrote Elbert Hubbard, "who has found his work." Too many people work only for a salary.

The genuine artist—be he painter, writer, or actor, gets more pleasure and real soul joy from what he achieves, than from any mere pay. Take the tragic example of Edgar Allan Poe. He was a great artist as a poet and writer. He could hardly gather enough pay for his work to keep him and his frail wife and mother-in-law in food! But he kept his standard of work high. There was pure pleasure in that.

I don't believe that the late Bob Davis ever gave a thought to the strength that he was expending in his far flung travels, or to the vast amount of time he gave to the encouraging of known and unknown writers, because it gave him the purest of pleasure. He got fun out of doing the thing that he wanted most to do.

Hitler Loses in New Voting: Berlin, Nov. 7.—Adolph Hitler, leader of the national socialists, suffered the first big defeat of his movement in Sunday's Reichstag election. But Chancellor Franz von Papen does not have much to rejoice about. For although he succeeded in halting the Nazis onward march, and apparently also made big inroads in the Bavarian people's party in the course of his recent visit to Bavaria, still Sunday's vote was overwhelmingly against him.

Maroons Beat York for First Time in History: Surprising even their most ardent supporters the Gettysburg high school eleven crashed through to one of its greatest grid triumphs in years, Saturday afternoon by downing York high at York, 14-7, before a large crowd, many of whom were from Gettysburg.

Coach George Forney's clan accomplished what no other Maroon and White aggregation could do in the long football series between these schools. Saturday's win is the first time in history that Gettysburg has defeated York on the gridiron.

GOP To Take Strong Hand In Congressional Affairs
REALIGNMENT TO BE ASKED ON COMMITTEES

By JACK BELL
Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Republicans, generally rejecting the idea of a coalition with anti-administration Democrats, counted today on taking a stronger hand in Congress in the affairs of committees which do much of the real work on legislation.

Realignment of Senate committees on the basis of a prospective 57 to 39 division, set up between the majority and minority as a result of Tuesday's balloting, may have a far-reaching effect on the course of important legislation in that body.

In the House, however, some Democrats indicated they might resist demands for an increase in Republican representation on committees, now fixed on the basis of three Democrats for each two Republicans.

With their increased numerical strength falling slightly short of a majority, the Republican party would be entitled to almost equal representation. But the Democrats contended that this ratio was ignored by the Republicans when they controlled the House in the last days of the Hoover administration.

3 To 2 Ratio
Senate leaders were expected to agree to a realignment by which the present Democratic ratio of more than two to one would be reduced to about three to two.

In one specific case, Chairman George (D-Ga.) said this probably would call for the appointment of two more Republicans to the Finance committee, which handles tax bills. The committee now comprises 14 Democrats, six Republicans and one Progressive. The latter, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, is grouped with the Republicans in the minority committee assignments.

Republicans were chief sponsors of sales tax proposals which were defeated in the committee by only two votes during consideration of the recently enacted revenue bill.

Admits Beating Invalid Mother

Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP)—Miss Eliza Davids, 47, was on probation today after pleading guilty to assault and battery charges in a "mercy attack" on her 75-year-old invalid mother, Mrs. Merion M. Davids, well-to-do descendant of Caspar Wistar, colonial glass manufacturer.

A court fixed a two-year probationary term after Miss Davids agreed to take mental treatment at a hospital. The state charged that she beat Mrs. Davids with a poker last October 7 and then told police: "I thought she would have been better off dead because of her age and physical condition." Mrs. Davids received severe head contusions.

TO WITHDRAW PLEA TO OPEN MARTIN ACTION

Washington, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Judge Howard D. Hughes withheld final action until today on the request of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Prigg that their petition to reopen a case in which Governor-elect Edward Martin settled a $29,811.50 bank debt for 12½ cents on the dollar, be withdrawn.

Prigg, personally asking the petition be dismissed yesterday, had signed it under the impression other creditors of the closed Washington bank would also sign it. He declared he and his wife had not fully investigated the facts, adding: "Now I have investigated the facts and found General Martin has made a conscientious and honorable settlement with all of his creditors. He has done more than the average man would have done under the same conditions. I feel we have done General Martin a very great injustice."

To Withdraw Case
"We have seen the checks and receipts to show that General Martin used the whole of the $50,000 that his wife received from his father's estate to pay his creditors."

Judge Hughes directed that the two attorneys who filed the petition be brought into court but only one of the lawyers could be located immediately. The court informed the attorney who appeared that an order would be made granting Prigg permission to withdraw the petition if the attorney agreed.

The petition was filed during the final stages of the gubernatorial campaign after P. Clair Ross, the Democratic nominee, charged Martin with "concealing" an inheritance of $50,000 from his father's estate in settling the bank debt. Martin replied the money had been lumped together with his other assets and all used to settle approximately $300,000 worth of debts.

"Soul Kiss Girl" To Pay Tribute To George Cohan

Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP)—George M. Cohan's "soul kiss girl"—now a graying cosmetics clerk—leaves for New York today to pay her last tribute to the man who gave her a brief reign of fame.

She is Stella Tracey, now "about 57." The star of Cohan's "Soul Kiss," a smash hit early in the century, got the day off from her department store job to attend the song and dance man's funeral.

"He was the greatest artist I have ever worked with," she said of Cohan, "and the kindest man I have ever known."

The Florida real estate crash and a long illness left the "soul kiss girl" with none of the money she earned as the leading lady of such hits as "Chinese Honeymoon," "The Royal Chef," and "Three Twins," although as recently as 1939 she made personal appearances in theaters.

She has been a sales clerk three years, and none of her fellow employees has known her as a former star.

TOP FILM PAY GETS REPRIEVE

Hollywood, Nov. 7 (AP)—Hollywood returned today to what passes for normal out here with the assurance that Uncle Sam will delay until January 1 his assault on those many-figured salary checks collected weekly by the high-priced movie making brigade.

The film studios, which had slammed down the cashier's windows on their upper-bracketed employees, opened them up again when the treasury department in Washington reversed an earlier ruling, and announced that salaries as usual may be paid during the remainder of this year. The previous announcement had been interpreted here as meaning a star was barred from earning more this year than last, and many were planning to give up their commitments inasmuch as they could see no point in working for nothing.

The studios remained cagey, so far as any statements were concerned, but it was being freely predicted that the moviemakers will spend the rest of the year grinding out as many films as they can for release in 1943 in case their employees decide to sit on the sidelines after netting their $25,000 limit next year.

This is a road map of electric power. It shows how high-voltage electric lines crisscross the country—carrying power to busy war plants and to 27 million homes.

of America's 400 electric companies. Did you ever wonder why American industries—like the electric industry—lead the world? There's a good reason—because it's one of the things we're fighting for.

The reason is the freedom of the individual—the right of every American to work when and where he wants, with-in reason—to enter any business or profession—to create and produce and to benefit by his own success. That's a powerful incentive.

Under the Jap and German systems of political management and state slavery, the individual counts for nothing. Only bureaucrats and political favorites have anything to hope for. In the long run, that won't win wars.

Here in America, 133 million people have a personal stake in Victory—and in preserving the system of American business management under public regulation that has helped so much to make us the strongest nation on earth.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Maybe some motorists would prefer to keep the bumpers and turn over the car for scrap metal.

Buying a Used Tire?

The sight of a used tire which may fit the car and thus keep it going is such a thrill the tendency is to be blind to a lot of things that may be wrong with it. Be sure to flex the shoe to see if any cuts open up or if there is any separation of the cords. Some unscrupulous sellers seal cuts with chewing gum and dress up the sidewalls to conceal check-marks. Under no conditions buy a wet tire as water covers a multitude of faults.

Working on Your Car

According to reliable sources it will take 40 mechanic hours next year to keep your car in condition. This is based on the amount of driving you will do under gasoline, or let us say, mileage rationing. Major service work, including engine overhauling, is the biggest item. Lubrication and tune-up run a close second. More work is done on car bodies than on brakes. This suggests an interesting conclusion—With more man power directed to conditioning the brakes perhaps there would be less need for straightening so many fenders and taking dents out of rammed fenders.

Come Back Like New

Factory reconditioning has now been extended to that long neglected unit—the battery cable. This is the one that runs from the battery to starter-motor. But don't assume that you can use the old one until it is half shot. Like a tire that is to be recapped you must have the job done before too much of the cable has been damaged by rubbing against the frame or floorboards. Not more than 10 per cent of the copper strands should be severed if a reconditioning is to be acceptable by the factory which does this work. Insulation, of course is replaced or repaired. Over the entire cable a new abrasion resistant loom braid is applied. It is impregnated with weather-resistant compound. The terminal and lug ends are either repaired or replaced. Replacement parts are better since they are non-corrosive.

Keep These in Mind

There's no chance of preventing the carburetor float bowl from leaking if the fuel pump pressure is too high. The safety limit on pressure is 4 1/2 pounds.

When you are checking the ammeter connections to make sure they are not loose take a look at the ignition switch and the dash unit of the electric gasoline gauge.

Should the oil gauge clog with oxide in the gauge connection you can clean it out with a piece of fine

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"These days we have some oddities by way of trying to discover why engines are slow on the start. I get new ones every now and again, even though around here we have learned not to be too much surprised at anything. Right now I'm thinking of the job that wouldn't start at all because the ammeter had gone bad. Just a case of no current getting through to the ignition system. I could have discovered this without checking all through the ignition parts had I been at the wheel when trying to crank, for I would have thought to take a look at the ammeter but a new helper was doing the cranking honors and I was under the hood where I couldn't see the trouble for the mess of parts surrounding me.

One for the Book

Hope this never happens to you, but should the engine take to almost complete refusal to run—and if you are sure that the situation isn't caused by the ignition system—be suspicious of the needle valve seat of the carburetor float bowl. Here's what can happen:

If the seat gets loose and unsews a bit it will naturally tend to hold up against the needle. The effect is the same as not having the needle rise. Hence fuel will have a difficult time of it getting past the seat into the float chamber. The engine will starve for gas and not run much above an idle.

Rules for New Belt

That new fan belt will live a more normal life if you'll remember two things regarding installation. One is to avoid over-tightening it. To ignore this rule means that the belt will be badly stretched during its infancy. It will never get over the strain. The other "must" is to avoid misalignment of the pulleys over which it runs. When the pulleys are not in line the belt will fray along the edges and of course be weakened.

Saves Peck of Trouble

It may seem like a frill to keep the crankcase clean by those simple methods which insure its good condition, but here's what you would have to do with one 1941 job if the oil pan had to be dropped and cleaned out manually. The front end of the car would be jacked up. Then the axle would be disconnected from the body. Lower ends of the shock absorbers would be disconnected. Then it would be necessary to remove the upper knuckle stud nut holding the cross bar and the caster-camber rods. The front end of the car would then be raised about two feet, the axle being shifted forward for removal of the flywheel and oil pans.

I'll take vanilla. I'll just keep the air cleaner clean so that dirt can't work into the cylinders and down into the crankcase. I'll change the oil regularly, and use gum solvents before changing so that the rings will function better and check blow-by into the crankcase.

Toward Better Mileage

It may be an occasion for losing your temper if the engine refuses to start, or if starting is slow and doubtful, but the situation has its useful angles. When you solve a starting problem you automatically boost gasoline mileage. And when I speak of making your gas go further I don't mean putting an extra loop or two in the gas line.

If, for instance, you find that starting delay was caused by gummy valve stems you know that cleaning up this mess will go a long way toward boosting engine operating efficiency. Another delay in starting can be traced to weak valve springs. This results in loss of compression which, in turn, not only slows the start but saps the engine's power continually. So if you are having trouble starting it may be a blessing in disguise.

Pointer on Plugs

When having spark plugs cleaned by one of the machines for this purpose be sure that the cleaning compound is carefully removed from the plugs before they are put back into the engine. Sometimes cleaning compound, especially if a bit on the damp side, can lodge between the porcelain on the shell of a plug. This is apt to happen where plugs are of the extremely small 10 mm. size. In taping them, to disclose any cleaning compound that may have wedged in, do it gently. The same rule applies when screwing such small plugs into the engine. It is advisable not to use a torsion wrench for this purpose.

What's Your Car Trouble?

Q. I've tried your plan of cranking with the throttle wide open in order to re-start the engine of my car when it is warm but still have some trouble. There's no difficulty at all when the engine is cold. What else can I do?—C. M. N.

A. Keep right on with the rule I gave you, but also check to see that the throttle opens fully. Make sure that the choke valve isn't stuck so that it stays partly closed. I note that you say the valves were ground. Possibly there isn't enough tappet clearance.

Q. My headlights have developed a habit of winking at people. Can't make any sense out of their behavior, and several good mechanics are puzzled. The lamps themselves seem to fit tightly into the sockets, yet when the fenders are struck the lights are apt to go on or off.

A. Obviously there are some loose contacts in the lighting system. This may be in the headlight junction block. Take a look. Q. Would a bad fuel pump cause

Attorney Charged With Slaying Man

Coatesville, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—A coroner's jury recommended last night that Stephen B. Devereux, attorney, be held on a charge of murder for grand jury action in the shooting of Willard Copeland, 38, in a field near here last Saturday. A murder charge already had been placed against him after a hearing before Justice of the Peace Raymond Heald. Copeland's wife told the jury that Devereux fired when her husband crossed to Devereux's property to get a rabbit he had shot. She and her husband were hunting, she testified. The attorney told police he fired one shot into the air from a .33 calibre pistol and then "shot low" because he feared Copeland might fire on him. To the British a spark plug is a "sparkling plug," and a plane's landing gear is called its "under-carriage."

Come Back Like New

Factory reconditioning has now been extended to that long neglected unit—the battery cable. This is the one that runs from the battery to starter-motor. But don't assume that you can use the old one until it is half shot. Like a tire that is to be recapped you must have the job done before too much of the cable has been damaged by rubbing against the frame or floorboards. Not more than 10 per cent of the copper strands should be severed if a reconditioning is to be acceptable by the factory which does this work. Insulation, of course is replaced or repaired. Over the entire cable a new abrasion resistant loom braid is applied. It is impregnated with weather-resistant compound. The terminal and lug ends are either repaired or replaced. Replacement parts are better since they are non-corrosive.

Keep These in Mind

There's no chance of preventing the carburetor float bowl from leaking if the fuel pump pressure is too high. The safety limit on pressure is 4½ pounds.

When you are checking the ammeter connections to make sure they are not loose take a look at the ignition switch and the dash unit of the electric gasoline gauge.

Should the oil gauge clog with oxide in the gauge connection you can clean it out with a piece of fine wire.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"These days we have some oddities by way of trying to discover why engines are slow on the start. I get new ones every now and again, even though around here we have learned not to be too much surprised at anything. Right now I'm thinking of the job that wouldn't start at all because the ammeter had gone bad. Just a case of no current getting through to the ignition system. I could have discovered this without checking all through the ignition parts had I been at the wheel when trying to crank, for I would have thought to take a look at the ammeter but a new helper was doing the cranking honors and I was under the hood where I couldn't see the trouble for the mess of parts surrounding me."

One for the Book

Hope this never happens to you, but should the engine take to almost complete refusal to run—and if you are sure that the situation isn't caused by the ignition system—be suspicious of the needle valve seat of the carburetor float bowl. Here's what can happen:

If the seat gets loose and unscrews a bit it will naturally tend to hold up against the needle. The effect is the same as not having the needle rise. Hence fuel will have a difficult time of it getting past the seat into the float chamber. The engine will starve for gas and not run much above an idle.

Rules for New Belt

That new fan belt will live a more normal life if you'll remember two things regarding installation. One is to avoid over-tightening it. To ignore this rule means that the belt will be badly stretched during its infancy. It will never get over the strain. The other "must" is to avoid misalignment of the pulleys over which it runs. When the pulleys are not in line the belt will fray along the edges and of course be weakened.

Saves Peck of Trouble

It may seem like a frill to keep the crankcase clean by those simple methods which insure its good condition, but here's what you would have to do with one 1941 job if the oil pan had to be dropped and cleaned out manually.

The front end of the car would be jacked up. Then the axle would be disconnected from the body. Lower ends of the shock absorbers would be disconnected. Then it would be necessary to remove the upper knuckle stud nut holding the cross bar and the caster-camber rods. The front end of the car would then be raised about two feet, the axle being shifted forward for removal of the flywheel and oil pans.

I'll take vanilla. I'll just keep the air cleaner clean so that dirt can't work into the cylinders and down into the crankcase. I'll change the oil regularly, and use gum solvents before changing so that the rings will function better and check blow-by into the crankcase.

Toward Better Mileage

It may be an occasion for losing your temper if the engine refuses to start, or if starting is slow and doubtful, but the situation has its useful angles. When you solve a starting problem you automatically boost gasoline mileage. And when I speak of making your gas go further I don't mean putting an extra loop or two in the gas line.

If, for instance, you find that starting delay was caused by gummy valve stems you know that cleaning up this mess will go a long way toward boosting engine operating efficiency. Another delay in starting can be traced to weak valve springs. This results in loss of compression which, in turn, not only slows the start but saps the engine's power continually. So if you are having trouble starting it may be a blessing in disguise.

Pointer on Plugs

When having spark plugs cleaned by one of the machines for this purpose be sure that the cleaning compound is carefully removed from the plugs before they are put back into the engine. Sometimes cleaning compound, especially if a bit on the damp side, can lodge between the porcelain on the shell of a plug. This is apt to happen where plugs are of the extremely small 10 mm. size. In taping them, to dislodge any cleaning compound that may have wedged in, do it gently. The same rule applies when screwing such small plugs into the engine. It is advisable not to use a torsion wrench for this purpose.

What's Your Car Trouble?

Q. I've tried your plan of cranking with the throttle wide open in order to re-start the engine of my car when it is warm but still have some trouble. There's no difficulty at all when the engine is cold. What else can I do?—C. M. N.

A. Keep right on with the rule I gave you, but also check to see that the throttle opens fully. Make sure that the choke valve isn't stuck so that it stays partly closed. I note that you say the valves were ground. Possibly there isn't enough tappet clearance.

Q. My headlights have developed a habit of winking at people. Can't make any sense out of their behavior, and several good mechanics are puzzled. The lamps themselves seem to fit tightly into the sockets, yet when the fenders are struck the lights are apt to go on or off.

—H. N. K.

A. Obviously there are some loose contacts in the lighting system. This may be in the headlight junction block. Take a look.

Q. Would a bad fuel pump cause vapor lock?—B. L. Jr.

A. No, but the effect would be very similar. If the pump's pressure is too low the fuel will be slow getting to the carburetor float bowl, and the engine wouldn't get enough gas for hill climbing. I'd have the pump replaced if the pressure is lower than 4 pounds.

Q. What do you think of liners for tires that have internal breaks, or to protect the tubes?—B. N. N.

A. It wouldn't be printable. Liners usually pinch the inner tube. Even flaps which are used to check rim cutting must be installed carefully and are not approved by many tire men. Use a blowout patch in a weak shoe. You'll run so much slower because of the weak shoe it won't present out-of-balance trouble.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him care of the Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for personal reply.

Attorney Charged With Slaying Man

Coatesville, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—A coroner's jury recommended last night that Stephen B. Devereux, attorney, be held on a charge of murder for grand jury action in the shooting of Willard Copeland, 38, in a field near here last Saturday.

A murder charge already had been placed against him after a hearing before Justice of the Peace Raymond Heald.

Copeland's wife told the jury that Devereux fired when her husband crossed to Devereux's property to get a rabbit he had shot. She and her husband were hunting, she testified.

The attorney told police he fired one shot into the air from a .38 calibre pistol and then "shot low" because he feared Copeland might fire on him.

To the British a spark plug is a "sparking plug," and a plane's landing gear is called its "under-carriage."

For newness, novelty and a definite breakaway from conventional filmfare, Universal's "Between Us Girls," coming Monday to the Majestic theatre, is declared to be the season's champion screen attraction. Diana Barrymore, Robert Cummings and Kay Francis have the leading roles.

The movie, described as a modern comedy, concerns a young stage star who masquerades as a 12-year-old tom-boy to help her beautiful, too-youthful mother win the handsome man she loves.

TEN YEARS AGO
Spook Parade Attracts Many:
One of Gettysburg's most enjoyable Halloween celebrations passed into history Monday evening after a large parade in which hundreds of grownups and children paraded and cavorted through the main streets.
The Gettysburg Boys' band furnished the music for the marchers. The parade was organized by John E. Storm, York street, and A. B. Plank was the chief marshal.
Partnership Is Dissolved: E. J. Lawver and R. W. Sittler, who conducted an automobile repair establishment at the Fleet-Wing garage, York street, dissolved partnership on Tuesday and the business was taken over by A. E. Hutchison, of the H and H machine shop, South Washington street.
Mr. Lawver will operate the repair shop for Mr. Hutchison. Mr. Sittler plans to accept a position in Harrisonburg, Virginia.
Counties Wed Saturday: Miss Myrtle Cullison, Mt. Pleasant township, and William T. Glass, of Orantanna, were married Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock by C. F. Palmer, clerk of the courts, after he issued the couple a marriage license.
Lodge Officers Are Installed: Charles F. Bodley, past commander, installed the following officers of Gettysburg camp, Sons of Veterans, at a meeting on Friday evening, John F. Steinhour, commander; Otis Walter, senior vice commander; Charles Cook, junior vice commander; George Hughes, camp council, three years; William L. Meals, secretary; Clayton A. Myers, treasurer; the Rev. L. B. Hafer, patriotic instructor; Jesse E. Snyder, chaplain; George Hughes, guide, and Joseph H. Riggs, color bearer.

REALIGNMENT TO BE ASKED ON COMMITTEES
By JACK BELL
Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Republicans, generally rejecting the idea of a coalition with anti-administration Democrats, counted today on taking a stronger hand in Congress in the affairs of committees which do much of the real work on legislation.
Realignment of Senate committees on the basis of a prospective 57 to 39 division, set up between the majority and minority as a result of Tuesday's balloting, may have a far-reaching effect on the course of important legislation in that body.
In the House, however, some Democrats indicated they might resist demands for an increase in Republican representation on committees, now fixed on the basis of three Democrats for each two Republicans.
With their increased numerical strength falling slightly short of a majority, the Republican party would be entitled to almost equal representation. But the Democrats contended that this ratio was ignored by the Republicans when they controlled the House in the last days of the Hoover administration.
3 To 2 Ratio
Senate leaders were expected to agree to a realignment by which the present Democratic ratio of more than two to one would be reduced to about three to two.
In one specific case, Chairman George (D-Ga.) said this probably would call for the appointment of two more Republicans to the Finance committee, which handles tax bills. The committee now comprises 14 Democrats, six Republicans and one Progressive. The latter, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, is grouped with the Republicans in the minority committee assignments.
Republicans were chief sponsors of sales tax proposals which were defeated in the committee by only two votes during consideration of the recently enacted revenue bill.

Denver (AP)—Others may complain of the dangers of submarine duty, but William Magnuson doesn't think it so bad.
The 20-year-old Navy shipfitter was on a submarine that helped sink three Japanese cruisers in the Solomon island area. He came through without a scratch.
But on route home a pickpocket lifted $88, all of his money. Then an automobile wreck left him cut and bruised.
PROTECTOR
Calculus, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Alden C. Naud thinks her nephew, Leon D. Carver, will come through this war unharmed.
She has sent him a family Bible, printed in 1710, which was carried by Carvers through the French and Indian, Revolutionary, Civil, Spanish - American and World wars.

TO WITHDRAW PLEA TO OPEN MARTIN ACTION
Washington, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Judge Howard D. Hughes withheld final action until today on the request of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Prigg that their petition to reopen a case in which Governor-elect Edward Martin settled a $29,811.50 bank debt for 10 1/2 cents on the dollar, be withdrawn.
Prigg, personally asking the petition be dismissed yesterday, had signed it under the impression other creditors of the closed Washington bank would also sign it. He declared he and his wife had not fully investigated the facts, adding:
"Now I have investigated the facts and found General Martin has made a conscientious and honorable settlement with all of his creditors. He has done more than the average man would have done under the same conditions. I feel we have done General Martin a very great injustice."
To Withdraw Case
"We have seen the checks and receipts to show that General Martin used the whole of the $30,000 that his wife received from his father's estate to pay his creditors."
Judge Hughes directed that the two attorneys who filed the petition be brought into court but only one of the lawyers could be located immediately. The court informed the attorney who appeared that an order would be made granting Prigg permission to withdraw the petition if the attorney agreed.
The petition was filed during the final stages of the gubernatorial campaign after F. Clair Ross, the Democratic nominee, charged Martin with "concealing" an inheritance of $50,000 from his father's estate in settling the bank debt. Martin replied the money had been lumped together with his other assets and all used to settle approximately $300,000 worth of debts.

"Soul Kiss Girl" To Pay Tribute To George Cohan
Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP)—George M. Cohan's "soul kiss girl"—now a graying cosmetics clerk—leaves for New York today to pay her last tribute to the man who gave her a brief reign of fame.
She is Stella Tracey, now "about 57." The star of Cohan's "Soul Kiss," a smash hit early in the century, got the day off from her department store job to attend the song and dance man's funeral.
"He was the greatest artist I have ever worked with," she said of Cohan, "and the kindest man I have ever known."
The Florida real estate crash and a long illness left the "soul kiss girl" with none of the money she earned as the leading lady of such hits as "Chinese Honey," "The Royal Chief," and "Three Twins," although as recently as 1939 she made personal appearances in theaters.
She has been a sales clerk three years, and none of her fellow employees has known her as a former star.
TO REVIEW PARADE
Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—James McCaffrey, president of Federation of War Veterans' societies, announced Governor-elect Edward Martin, former commander of the commonwealth's 28th division, and Lieut-General Brehon Somervell, chief of the office of technical information, have accepted invitations to review Pittsburgh's Armistice Day parade Wednesday.
The first apartment house in the United States was built in 1869 in New York city. It is still in use.

TOP FILM PAY GETS REPRIEVE
Hollywood, Nov. 7 (AP)—Hollywood returned today to what passes for normal out here with the assurance that Uncle Sam will delay until January 1 his assault on those many-figured salary checks collected weekly by the high-priced movie making brigade.
The film studios, which had slammed down the cashier's windows on their upper-bracketed employees, opened them up again when the treasury department in Washington reversed an earlier ruling, and announced that salaries as usual may be paid during the remainder of this year. The previous announcement had been interpreted here as meaning a star was barred from earning more this year than last, and many were planning to give up their commitments inasmuch as they could see no point in working for nothing.
The studios remained cagey, so far as any statements were concerned, but it was being freely predicted that the moviemakers will spend the rest of the year grinding out as many films as they can for release in 1943 in case their employees decide to sit on the sidelines after netting their $25,000 limit next year.

Army Nurse Wins First Merit Award
Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Attractive Miss Ann Agnes Bernattus, Exeter, Pa., Navy nurse who served on Bataan and Corregidor, is the first person in the Naval service to receive the newly created Legion of Merit award.
Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of Naval personnel, announced that she has been cited for "courageous and outstanding" performance of duty.
"Your excellent service in time of stress and under such dangerous conditions is worthy of the distinction which you have won," he told her.
Miss Bernattus, one of the nurses to escape from Bataan and Corregidor, entered the Naval service in 1936 after studying at Pennsylvania hospitals.

Admits Beating Invalid Mother
Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP)—Miss Eliza Davids, 47, was on probation today after pleading guilty to assault and battery charges in a "mercy attack" on her 75-year-old invalid mother, Mrs. Merion M. Davids, well-to-do descendant of Caspar Wistar, colonial glass manufacturer.
A court fixed a two-year probationary term after Miss Davids agreed to take mental treatment at a hospital. The state charged that she beat Mrs. Davids with a poker last October 7 and then told police: "I thought she would have been better off dead because of her age and physical condition." Mrs. Davids received severe head contusions.

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams
THE PURE PLEASURE OF IT!
People who get the most out of life, breathe into what they do, an enthusiasm for their work—just for the pure pleasure that they get of it! Admiral Peary once wrote to me that this was the controlling idea that he had in the discovery of the North Pole. To have done a job—never before accomplished, for the pure pleasure of having done it.
I have hired a great many people during my business career, but upon interviewing each one, I have shied from those who first asked: "What money do I get out of it?" or, "Can I buy an interest in the business?" I still have two—I call them boys—who came to me over 25 years ago, both of them so anxious for a job that each said he was even willing to work for nothing to start, if I would only give him the chance. Needless to state, each made good from the start—and he didn't have to work for nothing!
You can pick the happy workers out of every organization. They have a different light in their eyes. They look healthier—and you know at once that they are working for far more than comes to them for their week's work.
To be at work, to be busy, in itself, is compensation. The pure pleasure of being at work at something that is interesting, educational, and inspiring, is what brings satisfaction. "Blessed is that man," once wrote Elbert Hubbard, "who has found his work." Too many people work only for a salary.
The genuine artist—he be painter, writer, or actor, gets more pleasure and real soul joy from what he achieves, than from any mere pay. Take the tragic example of Edgar Allan Poe. He was a great artist as a poet and writer. He could hardly gather enough pay for his work to keep him and his frail wife and mother-in-law in food! But he kept his standard of work high. There was pure pleasure in that.
I don't believe that the late Bob Davis ever gave a thought to the strength that he was expending in his far flung travels, or to the vast amount of time he gave to the encouraging of known and unknown writers, because it gave him the purest of pleasure. He got fun out of doing the thing that he wanted most to do.

Hitler Loses in New Voting: Berlin, Nov. 7.—Adolph Hitler, leader of the national socialists, suffered the first big defeat of his movement in Sunday's Reichstag election.
But Chancellor Franz von Papen does not have much to rejoice about. For although he succeeded in halting the Nazis onward march, and apparently also made big inroads in the Bavarian people's party in the course of his recent visit to Bavaria, still Sunday's vote was overwhelmingly against him.
Maroons Beat York for First Time in History: Surprising even their most ardent supporters the Gettysburg high school—eleven crashed through to one of its greatest grid triumphs in years, Saturday afternoon by downing York high at York, 14-7, before a large crowd, many of whom were from Gettysburg.
Coach George Forney's clan accomplished what no other Maroon and White aggregation could do in the long football series between these schools. Saturday's win is the first time in history that Gettysburg has defeated York on the gridiron.

Bullets Whip Dickinson in Annual Clash: Dickinson's ambitious Red Devils, bent on upsetting the Orange and Blue grid warriors of G-burg in their chase for another Eastern Pennsylvania Collegiate conference championship, were put to rout and humiliated before a crowd of approximately 5,000 Fathers-Sons on Memorial field, Saturday afternoon. The final tally of 25 to 7 is the worst beating administered the Carlisle aggregation in many years and makes the twentieth victory for the Gettysburgians. Dickinson has won eight and tied one contest in the 29-year-old gridiron pact.

No. 259—More About The McClellan Clan
B. F. MacPHERSON
William McClellan was not the immigrant of his family. It was the second William who emigrated to America in 1739. The third William McClellan was first married about 1761 or '62 to Elizabeth McMichael and after her death married Mary Reynolds in 1786.
William (4), the eldest child of William (3) and Elizabeth McMichael McClellan, was born June 21, 1763 at his father's plantation on Marsh creek. He was married January 31, 1788 to Mary Magdalena, daughter of Baltzer Spangler, of York. He died July 27, 1831 and was first buried in the family plot. Later his body and that of his wife was moved to the Evergreen cemetery. They were the parents of the following children:
Elizabeth (5), born January 1, 1789, died August 7, 1789. Buried in an unmarked grave in the family graveyard on Marsh creek. William (5), born December 22, 1789, married June 19, 1821 to Mary Hersh, died May 4, 1845. Maria (5), born October 27, 1791, died August 11, 1792. Buried in the family plot in an unmarked grave.
Eleanor (5), born December 21, 1815 to James Gilliland, died June 17, 1886. Buried in the same lot as her father and mother in the Evergreen cemetery. Baltzer (5), born October 18, 1794, died unmarried, March 19, 1815. Buried in the family graveyard in an unmarked grave. Charlotte (5), born April 7, 1797, married March 25, 1818 to Thomas R. Shower, died June 15, 1828. Nancy (5), born August 16, 1798, married August 1, 1816 to George Hersh, died December 17, 1862. Anna Eliza (5), born December 20, 1799, died unmarried May 27, 1812. Buried in an unmarked grave in the family graveyard. Maria Dritt (5), born November 2, 1802, died unmarried, July 19, 1860. Buried in the lot with her father and mother in the Evergreen cemetery. Louisa (5), born January 7, 1804, married June 10, 1834 to the Rev. James Ross Rely, George Washington (5), born March 1, 1806, died unmarried, July 11, 1873. Buried in the family plot in the Evergreen cemetery. John Joseph Henry (5), born March 5, 1808, unmarried. Buried with other members of his family in the Evergreen cemetery.
Margaret (4), second child of William (3) and Elizabeth (McMichael) McClellan, was born May 1767, married Robert McCracken, died July 18, 1823. Robert and Margaret (4) (McClellan) McCracken were the parents of the following children:
John (5), born May 10, 1789, married April 14, 1814 to Ann Waugh, died September 1, 1855. Eleanor (5), born February 21, 1791, married October 27, 1818 to David Patterson, died December 8, 1870. Robert (5), born February 22, 1796, married September 10, to Jane Russell, died July 4, 1866.
The notes on the McClellans will be continued next week.

Massoli Unveils Obelisk to Himself: Rome, Nov. 5.—To remind future generations of "the man who made modern Italy," Premier Benito Mussolini Friday unveiled in the "Forum of Mussolini," a colossal obelisk of Carrar marble which bears his name in huge raised Roman letters as its inscription.
The occasion of the ceremony was Italy's armistice day, observed a week before that of the other Allies because Austria gave up the war seven days before Germany.
Personal: N. L. Minter and son, Glenn, East Middle street, heard President Hoover deliver a campaign address in Baltimore Monday.

was* This is a road map of electric power. It shows how high-voltage electric lines crisscross the country—carrying power to busy war plants and to 27 million homes.
HERE is the greatest electric transmission system in the world. No other nation has anything like it. The famous British "grid system" could be dropped into one small section of it. It carries more power than all the Axis countries combined.
This nation-wide network was put together in peacetime to serve you and other Americans. Almost all of it was built on the savings of the same people it serves—by the business managements of America's 400 electric companies.
Did you ever wonder why American industries—like the electric industry—lead the world? There's a good reason—because it's one of the things we're fighting for.
The reason is the freedom of the individual—the right of every American to work when and where he wants, with-in reason—to enter any business or profession—to create and produce and to benefit by his own success. That's a powerful incentive.
Under the Jap and German systems of political management and state slavery, the individual counts for nothing. Only bureaucrats and political favorites have anything to hope for. In the long run, that won't win wars.
Here in America, 133 million-people have a personal stake in Victory—and in preserving the system of American business management under public regulation that has helped so much to make us the strongest nation on earth.

"For these are the lasting, truthful things..."

This is an American soldier.

He goes to war not with any fanatical theories of race superiority, of any special "place in the sun," nor any desire to rule the world by fire and by sword. He fights for something greater. For decency—for his loved ones—for his Country, not as some war-like symbol, but as the one great refuge in this world where the humble, the meek, and the righteous may live and work in peace.

This is why he must win. For these are lasting, truthful things. They are not temporary drugs for the mind, but steadfast things of the heart and the soul. And when the flame of fanaticism finally flickers and goes out, the fires of American decency and honor will still burn.

It is this same sense of decency and honor that has bound us all together. We know we cannot all fight. But there is something we can do—and are doing—to help. We can help provide the guns, the planes, the tanks, and the ships to put might behind the right.

By the tens of millions, Americans are saving for Victory in the War Bond Payroll Savings Plan. Every payday we employees, workers and bosses are putting aside 10% of our pay—a dime from every dollar—and every time these savings amount to $18.75, we get a War Bond. And—because this is the free American way—our money is working double. First it goes in a mighty flow for the instruments of Victory, then—ten years later—it comes back to us, four dollars for every three we've put into War Bonds—$25 for every $18.75.

Now look at the picture again. Then imagine that this soldier were your brother, your son, or your sweetheart.

Would ten percent of your pay, in War Bond savings, be too much to help him win—and live?

5 Reasons Why

- 1 By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.
- 2 You prove that you are a patriotic American.
- 3 You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
- 4 You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
- 5 You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

LABOR AWAKES TO PAY FREEZE

BY KENNETH L. DIXON

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Realization that an "early freeze" had stunted growth of their pay envelopes last September 15 dawned on the nation's workers today as they were confronted with the strict terms of a new wage-salary stabilization order issued by the War Labor Board.

Empowered by President Roosevelt's October 3 economic stabilization order, the WLB virtually froze most wages and salaries under $5,000-a-year at the mid-September levels, and Chairman William H. Davis served notice it would be "pretty darn tough" to break the ice.

Adopted unanimously by the public, labor and industry members of the board, the order affected all non-agricultural wages and salaries under $5,000, except salaries paid supervisory or professional employees. Farm wages come under the agriculture department's jurisdiction and the treasury controls other salaries.

"Only in exceptional cases" are increases to be granted over the listed levels, the order stated, adding that no raises whatsoever are to be approved unless "necessary to correct maladjustments or inequalities, to eliminate sub-standard living, to correct gross inequalities or to aid in the effective prosecution of the war."

STRIKE CLOSES 3 TOOL PLANTS

Detroit, Nov. 7 (AP)—An estimated 7,000 to 8,000 employees of the tool and die industry were idle today Detroit's most serious war work tieup.

A "labor holiday" called last night by the Mechanics Educational society of America, independent union, closed three large plants and several smaller tool shops. Interruption by the Army and Navy was sought by the management.

The Mechanics society, strongest group within the recently organized Confederated Unions of America, charged that members of the CIO's United Automobile Workers had interfered with organizational activities of the society.

"Awful in Wartime" "We're going to see if there is any law and order in this town," said Matthew Smith, MESA president. "We want to find out if a man can join the labor organization of his own choice."

Affected plants included those of Nash-Kelvinator corporation, Eureka Vacuum Cleaner company and the Michigan Tool company.

Commenting "this is an awful thing in wartime," President Oscar L. Bard of the Michigan Tool company said he was asking Secretary of the Navy Knox and Army Ordnance officers to intercede.

Bard said that his company was making parts essential to tanks and battleships. He said that a continued halt to production would have a serious effect on some of the largest war plants of the Detroit area, which gets parts from the individual shops.

BILLY, JEAN MEET AND CRY

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—Billy Lyngvar, the 15-year-old boy who hid in the woods near here several days after shooting his 8-year-old sister, Jean, broke and cried as he saw her for the first time yesterday since the tragedy on October 20.

"Hello, Bill, I'm not mad at you," said the tot whose condition still is reported critical by physicians. She was shot in the chest when a shotgun with which Bill had been playing, discharged.

"I didn't mean to hurt you, Jean," said Billy as he patted his sister's head. "Please get better."

The two detectives accompanying Billy turned their heads as the children clasped hands. Billy wasn't permitted to remain long as Jean requires special care. One of the shotgun pellets, officials said, penetrated a lung, causing it to collapse.

Detective Michael Jordan said Billy has been a model of behavior since he was taken into custody. He added that no action will be taken until the outcome of Jean's injuries can be determined.

OPA Reveals War's "Meanest Swindle"

Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP)—The office of price administration bared today what it called "the meanest swindle in the world"—the fleecing of parents and friends sending gifts to service men overseas.

The racket has been operated throughout eastern Pennsylvania, the office said, by "one-man mail order houses" who advertise that they will send "deluxe writing kits" directly to service men on receipt of $2.

"The sender never sees the kit which isn't worth 25 cents," said Dr. James F. Bogardus, state price officer. "The OPA is tracking down every such case and prosecution will follow."

Fire Threatens Business Block

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Fire of unknown origin swept a building and threatened an entire business block in downtown Johnstown early today before being brought under control of firemen from Johnstown and the adjoining communities of Franklin borough, Conemaugh, Ferndale and Dale.

More than 12 persons in second and third story apartments of an old three-story building were led to safety by police and firemen. Firemen first reported damage might approximate $60,000 but Fire Chief John Moran later said the loss was approximately $20,000.

JAMES SCORES RECORD, STERN

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP)—An assertion by the Philadelphia Record that the Pennsylvania Treasury "is overflowing with a surplus in excess of $70,000,000" is called "entirely untrue" by Governor James.

The Republican Chief Executive, replying to an editorial in the independent Democratic newspaper, said "the surplus is in prospect for the next biennium."

James declared "it is time that Mr. (J. David) Stern (Record publisher), his political judgment so quickly repudiated twice in succession, abandon his attitude of 'everybody out of step but me' and consent to join hands with all the rest of us in winning the really important war."

The Governor said his Administration would finish the biennium "with the books in balance, clear of the haunting debts left us by the past Administration and perhaps a little to the good, but without any such surplus as Mr. Stern states already exists." He added:

"What does exist is a scale of tax income which will run many millions ahead of necessary state expenses. During the preparation of the budget this winter, taxes can properly be cut enough to bring income down to the point where it covers necessary appropriations."

Hunterstown

Hunterstown—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Plank and family motored to New Cumberland, U.S. induction camp, where they visited Mrs. Plank's brother, Allen Matthew, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heyser and son, of Arlington, Virginia, spent the week-end with Mrs. Lizzie Thompson.

Charles Klunk and daughter, Doris, and sons, Kenneth and Francis, Hanover, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert King.

Miss Harriet Brown is spending some time in Tennessee.

The following spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ford: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ford and daughter, Nancy, and Mrs. Mary Ford, of Thurmont; Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson, of York; Mrs. Joseph Johnson, of York; Mrs. Mary Lockner and son, Charles, of York; Mrs. Lloyd Dickerson and daughter, Romaine, and son, Lawrence, of York; and Mrs. Roy Saylor, Taneytown.

J. A. Eckert left Wednesday for Coatesville.

MURDER on the Campus

Chapter 17
KILLER MALONE
Amy Bassett got back from the Daily Star office late that night and tossed a book on her desk. Susan, in green jersey lounging pajamas, was stretched on her bed reading.

"Hi, new hawk," Susan greeted. "What's on the front burner, as Mr. Crosby would say?"

"Well, for one thing," Amy said slowly, "they're not an interesting story on tomorrow's sports page. Amy started to undress. "Mr. Todd Malone killed a killer Malone."

Whether he likes it or not," she continued. "He hit a freshman and so hard this afternoon he broke the poor kid's leg and sent him to the hospital."

Susan sat upright. "He what?" she echoed.

"He committed matricide," Amy said. "All Scott of the sports staff was telling me about it. He says no one has ever seen Malone in such a business-like mood as he was today. He seemed to forget it was practice and thought every play was the one that would win the game."

"Well, what's wrong with that?" "Nothing," I suppose. But Al said Todd was more than business-like. He said he was cold as ice. As much as Al hated to say it, he said Todd was almost vicious."

"I don't get it," Susan said thoughtfully.

"Sorry Pal" Todd's attitude appeared the same on Wednesday and again on Thursday. The sports writers went to Pete Bailey after practice.

"Nothing to say," said Pete. "They sought out Todd, himself. He turned on Frank Garvey of the Chronicle. 'Get the hell out of here,' he half-shrieked."

Garvey lit a cigarette coolly. "Okay, Killer," he said.

Todd lunged, but Eddie caught him and dragged him back, slamming him down onto the bench. A frightened sophomore student manager, his eyes wide, looked up nervously as he stacked helmets from a push-cart.

"What the devil's got into you lately?" Eddie snapped. "I didn't say anything about it before because I thought it might wear off. Something's eating you, and I intend to find out before you crack up some more future varsity material. We had one helluva time keeping that freshman end from going to Tennessee and then when we got him you maybe ruin him for good."

Todd stared down at a shoe. "Sorry, pal."

"That's all you have to say?" "That's all, Ed."

Luttrell turned and walked toward the shower room.

Against Purdue Todd was a cold, raging demon. He blocked like a steam-roller. When he hit a ball-carrier he slammed him down so he almost bounced. Twice he hit Purdue runners so hard the ball popped from their arms and State recovered.

When he carried the ball he fought for that last inch, blasting where there was no hole, making his own running up linemen's backs if they got in his way.

New Oxford

New Oxford—First aid classes have begun for all residents of New Oxford and vicinity and Irishtown, who are at least seventeen years old. The classes will meet each Thursday evening in the local high school building. The first aid course for Civilian Defense is the important course for the students, and will be under the sponsorship of the American Red Cross and taught by instructors duly qualified by this organization. ## LABOR AWAKES TO PAY FREEZE

BY KENNETH L. DIXON

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Realization that an "early freeze" had stunted growth of their pay envelopes last September 15 dawned on the nation's workers today as they were confronted with the strict terms of a new wage-salary stabilization order issued by the War Labor Board.

Empowered by President Roosevelt's October 3 economic stabilization order, the WLB virtually froze most wages and salaries under $5,000-a-year at the mid-September levels, and Chairman William H. Davis served notice it would be "pretty darn tough" to break the ice.

Adopted unanimously by the public, labor and industry members of the board, the board affected all non-agricultural wages and salaries under $5,000, except salaries paid supervisory or professional employees. Farm wages came under the agriculture department's jurisdiction and the treasury controls other salaries.

"Only in exceptional cases" are increases to be granted over the listed levels, the order stated, adding that no raises whatsoever are to be approved unless "necessary to correct maladjustments or inequalities, to eliminate sub-standards of living, to correct gross inequalities or to aid in the effective prosecution of the war."

STRIKE CLOSES 3 TOOL PLANTS

Detroit, Nov. 7 (AP)—An estimated 7,000 to 8,000 employees of the tool and die industry were idle today Detroit's most serious war work tieup.

A "labor holiday" called last night by the Mechanics Educational society of America, independent union, closed three large plants and several smaller tool shops. Intercession by the Army and Navy was sought by the managements.

The Mechanics society, strongest group within the recently organized Confederated Unions of America, charged that members of the CIO's United Automobile Workers had interfered with organizational activities of the society.

"Awful in Wartime" "We're going to see if there is any law and order in this town," said Matthew Smith, MESA president. "We want to find out if a man can join the labor organization of his own choice."

Affected plants included those of Nash-Kelvinator corporation, Eureka Vacuum Cleaner company and the Michigan Tool company.

Commenting "this is an awful thing in wartime," President Oscar L. Bard of the Michigan Tool company said he was asking Secretary of the Navy Knox and Army ordnance officers to intercede.

Bard said that his company was making parts essential to tanks and battleships. He said that a continued halt to production would have a serious effect on some of the largest war plants of the Detroit area, which sets parts from the individual shops.

BILLY, JEAN MEET AND CRY

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—Billy Lyngvar, the 15-year-old boy who hid in the woods near here several days after shooting his 8-year-old sister, Jean, broke and cried as he saw her for the first time yesterday since the tragedy on October 20.

"Hello, Bill, I'm not mad at you," said the tot whose condition still is reported critical by physicians. She was shot in the chest when a shotgun with which Bill had been playing, discharged.

"I didn't mean to hurt you, Jean," said Billy as he patted his sister's head. "Please get better."

The two detectives accompanying Billy turned their heads as the children clasped hands. Billy wasn't permitted to remain long as Jean requires special care. One of the shotgun pellets, officials said, penetrated a lung, causing it to collapse.

Detective Michael Jordan said Billy has been a model of behavior since he was taken into custody. He added that no action will be taken until the outcome of Jean's injuries can be determined.

OPA Reveals War's "Meanest Swindle"

Philadelphia, Nov. 7 (AP)—The office of price administration barred today what it called "the meanest swindle in the world"—the fleecing of parents and friends sending gifts to service men overseas.

The racket has been operated throughout eastern Pennsylvania, the office said, by "one-man mail order houses" who advertise that they will send "deluxe writing kits" directly to service men on receipt of $2.

"The sender never sees the kit which isn't worth 25 cents," said Dr. James F. Bogardus, state price officer. "The OPA is tracking down every such case and prosecution will follow."

Fire Threatens Business Block

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Fire of unknown origin swept a building and threatened an entire business block in downtown Johnstown early today before being brought under control of firemen from Johnstown and the adjoining communities of Franklin borough, Conemaugh, Ferndale and Dale.

More than 12 persons in second and third story apartments of an old three-story building were led to safety by police and firemen. Firemen first reported damage might approximate $60,000 but Fire Chief John Moran later said the loss was approximately $20,000.

JAMES SCORES RECORD, STERN

Harrisburg, Nov. 7 (AP)—An assertion by the Philadelphia Record that the Pennsylvania Treasury "is overflowing with a surplus in excess of $70,000,000" is called "entirely untrue" by Governor James.

The Republican Chief Executive, replying to an editorial in the independent Democratic newspaper, said "the surplus is in prospect for the next biennium."

James declared "it is time that Mr. (J. David) Stern (Record publisher), his political judgment so quickly repudiated twice in succession, abandon his attitude of 'everybody out of step but me' and consent to join hands with all the rest of us in winning the really important war."

The Governor said his Administration would finish the biennium "with the books in balance, clear of the haunting debts left us by the past Administration and perhaps a little to the good, but without any such surplus as Mr. Stern states already exists." He added:

"What does exist is a scale of tax income which will run many millions ahead of necessary state expenses. During the preparation of the budget this winter, taxes can properly be cut enough to bring income down to the point where it covers necessary appropriations."

Hunterstown

Hunterstown—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Plank and family motored to New Cumberland, U.S. induction camp, where they visited Mrs. Plank's brother, Allen Matthew, Saturday.

Miss Gladys Taughinbaugh, Waynesboro, recently spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Taughinbaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heyser and son, of Arlington, Virginia, spent the week-end with Mrs. Lizzie Thompson.

Charles Klunk and daughter, Doris, and sons, Kenneth and Francis, Hanover, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert King.

Miss Harriet Brown is spending some time in Tennessee.

The following spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ford: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ford and daughter, Nancy, and Mrs. Mary Ford, of Thurmont; Mr. and Mrs. David J. J. Eckert left Wednesday for Coatesville.

By JERRY BRONFELD

Chapter 17
KILLER MALONE

Amy Basset got back from the Daily Stater office late that night and tossed a book on her desk. Susan, in green jersey lounging pajamas, was stretched on her bed reading.

"Hi, newshawk," Susan greeted. "What's on the front burner, as Mr. Crosby would say?"

"Well, for one thing," Amy said slowly, "they've got an interesting story on tomorrow's sports page." Amy started to undress. "Mr. Todd Malone really is 'Killer Malone' now whether he likes it or not," she continued. "He hit a freshman end so hard this afternoon he broke the poor kid's leg and sent him to the hospital."

Susan sat upright. "He what?" she echoed.

"He committed mayhem," Amy said. "Al Scott of the sports staff was telling me about it. He says no one has ever seen Malone in such a business-like mood as he was today. He seemed to forget it was practice and thought every play was the one that would win the game."

"Well, what's wrong with that?" "Nothing—I suppose. But Al said Todd was more than business-like. He said he was cold as ice. As much as Al hated to say it, he said Todd was almost vicious."

"I don't get it," Susan said thoughtfully.

"Sorry Pal"

Todd's attitude appeared the same on Wednesday and again on Thursday. The sports writers went to Pete Bailey after practice.

"Nothing to say," said Pete. "They ought to tell Todd, himself. He turned on Frank Garvey of the Chronicle. 'Get the hell out of here,' he half-shrieked."

Garvey lit a cigarette coolly. "Okay, Killer," he said.

Todd lunged, but Eddie caught him and dragged him back, slamming him down onto the bench. A frightened sophomore student manager, his eyes wide, looked up nervously as he stacked helmets from a push-cart.

"What the devil's got into you lately?" Eddie snapped. "I didn't say anything about it before because I thought it might wear off. Something's eating you, and I intend to find out before you crack up some more future varsity material. We had one helluva time keeping that freshman end from going to Tennessee and then when we get him you maybe ruin him for good."

Todd stared down at a shot. "Sorry, pal."

"That's all you have to say?" "That's all, Ed."

Luttrell turned and walked toward the shower room.

Against Purdue Todd was a cold, raging demon. He blocked like a steam-roller. When he hit a ball-carrier he slammed him down so he almost bounced. Twice he hit Purdue runners so hard the ball popped from their arms and State recovered.

When he carried the ball he fought for that last inch, blasting where there was no hole, making his own, running up linemen's backs if they got in his way.

He gave his team little rest, driving them mercilessly. On one sequence of plays he sent Duchek pounding over guard on three straight plays from two different formations. When Andy got up the third time a thin trickle of blood ran from his lip.

"Hey, ain't there any other ball-carriers on this club?" Andy grumbled, and Todd stonily said, "they're weak at that spot, Andy, and they can't tell what's coming. That's what you've got to do. When a guy is down you got to keep hitting him where he's weak."

In the huddle Eddie wiped a smear of sweat from his face and looked at Todd. So that was it. . . .

It wound up, 20-7.

Up in the press box, high on the top fringe of the stadium, the sports writers were pounding out their copy, feeding it to the telegraphers at their side.

Garvey of the Chronicle turned to Buck Ebling of the News. "That kid did everything but use brass knuckles down there, today."

"All strictly on the level though. Hard, that's all. Just hard."

"He almost strangled me last week," Garvey said. "I called him 'Killer.' I'd like to call him that in my story."

"Better not," Ebling warned. "Under any other circumstances you could get away with it. As it is, he said significantly, 'you might get yourself in a barrel of trouble, spelled i-i-b-e-e-l'."

Susan Gets a Jolt

Susan bumped into Eddie on Monday outside her 11 o'clock sociology class. "You're just the person I want to see," she said.

"Fire away, gorgeous."

"Tell me—what took with that berserk roommate of yours? Listen to my theory first, and tell me if I'm wrong."

"I think it's simply because Todd has resolved to forget everything and concentrate on football. It's an escape for him, sort of a defense mechanism, if you will. Honestly, that's what I believe."

Eddie was silent. Finally he shook his head. "You're wrong," he said flatly. "And I might as well tell you. He dropped a word last night that gave me a hint, and I pressed him until he confessed."

"Susie," Eddie said with a certain firmness, "your father was in town last week and had a talk with Todd. The gist of the whole thing was he said he didn't want Todd to see you. Todd boiled red like a lobster. He says he was so mad he felt like slugging your dad."

"Todd got to thinking too much about it—not just because of you—Eddie interjected — 'But because of what it meant—that he wasn't good company for a girl like you. He got so worked up he had to vent his feelings in a physical way and he just naturally started going nuts on the field."

"A great thing for the ball club, but not good for Todd," Eddie finished moodily.

Susan had stopped, incredulity written on her face. "My father was here—and said—?" She just stared at Eddie, horrified.

"For these are the lasting, truthful things..."

This is an American soldier.

He goes to war not with any fanatical theories of race superiority, of any special "place in the sun," nor any desire to rule the world by fire and by sword. He fights for something greater. For decency—for his loved ones—for his Country, not as some war-like symbol, but as the one great refuge in this world where the humble, the meek, and the righteous may live and work in peace.

This is why he must win. For these are lasting, truthful things. They are not temporary drugs for the mind, but steadfast things of the heart and the soul. And when the flame of fanaticism finally flickers and goes out, the fires of American decency and honor will still burn.

It is this same sense of decency and honor that has bound us all together. We know we cannot all fight. But there is something we can do—and are doing—to help. We can help provide the guns, the planes, the tanks, and the ships to put might behind the right.

By the tens of millions, Americans are saving for Victory in the War Bond Payroll Savings Plan. Every payday we employees, workers and bosses are putting aside 10% of our pay—a dime from every dollar—and every time these savings amount to $18.75, we get a War Bond. And—because this is the free American way—our money is working double. First it goes in a mighty flow for the instruments of Victory, then—ten years later—it comes back to us, four dollars for every three we've put into War Bonds—$25 for every $18.75.

Now look at the picture again. Then imagine that this soldier were your brother, your son, or your sweetheart.

Would ten percent of your pay, in War Bond savings, be too much to help him win—and live?

5 Reasons Why

- 1 By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.
- 2 You prove that you are a patriotic American.
- 3 You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.
- 4 You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.
- 5 You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.
